

The Science of Prophistory Explained

By Terry Myers Smith

The Science of Prophistory

TERRY SMITH

THE CHRISTIAN SPIRIT INC. PUBLISHERS

PEPPERELL, MA

All Rights Reserved. No portion of this book may be published without permission of the publisher.

Contents

Introduction

Part I. The Ministry of Prophistory

1. Prophistory And Our Ministry
2. About Prophistory
3. Defining Bible Prophecy
4. Prophistory Provides Hope Not Fear
5. Six Paradigms of Prophistory
6. Revolutionary Nature of Final Prophecies

Part II. Rise of Humanities at End

7. Rise and Evolution of Sciences at End
8. Human Science Not Omnipotent Ruler
9. Force – Oppression: Begotten by Science of War ...
10. The Science of Government & Economics
11. Science Shapes Today's World ...

Part III. Man's Crooked Sciences

12. Science of Man vs Science of Prophistory

Science of Man vs Science of Prophistory

- 13. Science of History Perverted
- 14. Pseudo Sciences of Evolution and Archaeology
- 15. Modern Philosophy: Salesman of Tripe
- 16. Science Turned Political
- 17. The Wicked Science of Pharmacology

Part IV. Prophistory and True Science

- 18. Prophistory: The True Empirical Science
- 19. Theo-Sociology is Coming

Appendix

Prophistory 101

History is Prophecy Fulfilled.
– and –
Prophecy Yet to Be Fulfilled
Just History Waiting to Happen!

God is not running the world by the seat of his pants, and he certainly has not put us on the “third stone from the sun” and left us alone to fend for ourselves. God is the Creator molder of Man, the shaper of nations, the designer of history. As God, he sits outside of time and space all knowing he knows the beginning and the end of all things, he has seen history, knows it before it happens. In that way God is not subject to past or future. It is only a matter where an occurrence or issue may fall within the framework of time. This is how he can inform Man of things that are yet to come. This is why everything he tells us in the Bible that is called prophetic is important. They are things he has chosen as vital for the knowledge and understanding of Man. He has promised us through one of his prophets, Amos, that he will do nothing critical and important with or for his people except He clue them in first. It is also why a first principle of Prophistory can be stated as: “Meaningful History is nothing more and nothing less than fulfilled prophecy (Bible prophecy that has come to pass) and; Prophecy yet to be fulfilled is simply history waiting to happen (Bible prophecy in the process of being fulfilled). This is the first principle of Prophistory.

The proof is the fulfillment of Bible prophecy. Understanding the Bible is largely a matter of knowing God and believing that He wrote it's every word. Once we get to know both author and word we begin to comprehend that God truly is in control of everything, not least of all, Man's destiny. Nor is He what Satan claims He is – a bungler who has done a miserable job who puts men through needless pain and grief. God's ultimate goal is to create a habitation for himself, and that habitation is Man himself. He wants to bring man to eternal life, a creature impervious to sin and its wages, death. To instill trust in us, God invented prophecy, "The Greatest Show on Earth"; with its ongoing miracles and marvels which constantly testify to the omnipotence of God. Once we get familiar with the power and purpose of prophecy we begin to see that prophecy and history are inseparable, prophecy is history waiting to happen and meaningful history is nothing more than prophecy fulfilled. The study and understanding of prophecy answers history's four essential and fundamental questions: (1. Where have we been? (2. Why were we there? (3. Where are we going? And (4. Why are we going there? Anyone or anything that can answer these four questions should be a friend and comforter for life. Prophecy promises to be such a friend.

Our relationship with Prophecy ought to be viewed as a process of education about reality. If we are attentive to it, treat it with respect and wisdom, a plan for Man's redemption will begin to seep out of the Bible's wealth of real knowledge and become a part of our everyday lives. When we come to God we immediately understand that he, from the moment he molded Adam out of the clay of the earth, had a clear reason for creating Man and a sure plan that would liberate him from all threat of sin and death. Then, as Prophecy is prayerfully studied, an order begins to impose itself on the chaotic fog of history. The list of names and dates thrown at us by teachers in a hurry, will then slowly take on meaning and we will be able to sift through the meaningless to the sublime truth and matters concerning God's plan for mankind. There are no loose ends, nothing is left to chance, nothing is contingent on the schemes and adventures of Man, nothing can be overthrown by the conspiring forces of evil, the plan has been forecast, things are going just as He planned.

Gradually one begins to see the obvious, that God's plan is linear in nature, finite, detailed, perfect. Providence is the word we use for His plan which has a clear cut beginning and a predetermined end. It takes time and effort, however, before all of the seemingly disjointed pieces of prophecy can be fitted together so the whole plan can be seen in an orderly sequence viewed from the panorama of God's eternity. Once we view it as a plan we become aware that the important things of history are only those things that pertain (directly or indirectly) to God's plan of redemption for Man. Then, finally, history's value, its meaning and reason, surfaces. We are no longer intimidated by the vast expanses of crisscrossing history with its endless clutter of changes, revolutions, skullduggery, oppression, failed utopias, wars, events, dates, and super-duper personalities.

“Meaningful History is nothing more and nothing less than fulfilled prophecy (Bible prophecy that has come to pass) and; Prophecy yet to be fulfilled is simply history waiting to happen (Bible prophecy in the process of being fulfilled).” This is the first principle of Prophistory.

Like a scientist looking into a microscope we can zero in on just the pertinent things, unimpressed and unmoved by the irrelevant material outside the realm of our focus. Suddenly, unencumbered by the weight that Man’s view of history lays on us, we are free to reap history’s lessons, map its course, garner its hope, and enjoy the bolstered faith it gives. All of this and more we owe to God and the power of the prophetic word.

Meaningful History is fulfilled Prophecy

Furrowing its way through the Bible like the mother-load of gold running through a fabulously wealthy gold mine, this quintessential history has to be dug out with the pick-axe of study and by the toil and patience of prayer. As the forty-niners of the California gold rush, we must be willing to leave everything behind, every thought and preconception, to dig for prophecy’s bonanza of riches. We must be willing to labor, taking out one chunk of pure and valuable truth after another, greedily tucking each and every nugget away in our personal Bank of Knowledge and Wisdom to be tendered smartly against the coming flood of evil coming upon the world at the hand of the Antichrist. The prophetic word can ransom the wise person in the day of the Antichrist. This mining for the gold of God's history can be hard work, but God knows our mental and spiritual limitations and wisely has kept things on an elementary level.

Quintessential History

Simply put: God's history is quintessential. A term coined by the Greeks, quintessential has a spiritual application as well as a pure and lean connotation to it. The Greeks, though far from being proponents or preachers of God's plan, arrived at the term because they believed the world to be composed of four essences: earth, air, fire and water; but they believed that a fifth essence ruled over all things, and that essence, or force, they dubbed the quint (fifth) essence. So, any true quintessential history must be a streamlined, rudimentary ordering of events, handed down by the Creator from above. Therefore, everything in this book, cover to cover, turns on this maxim: Since quintessential history and prophecy are one and the same there will be a profound disregard for conventional history and its traditional concerns. Likewise, I have made a conscious attempt to resist all temptations to explain or defend the infallibility of the Scriptures (on which this work confidently rests) but instead have endeavored to follow the lead of the quintessential history of the Scriptures by staying on a spiritually minded and concise course. This writing also presupposes belief on the part of the reader, or certainly an open minded, open hearted willingness to explore the truth as a greedy miner afflicted with gold-fever. I believe time is running out, God's plan is drawing to its conclusion, and I truly believe there is no point in dredging up neat little curiosities or other supposedly important facts, no matter how highly esteemed they may be among the professional historians of Man. This does not mean there are not some highly interesting details in the history of the Antichrist and it's Empire that reveal the true spirit behind this grandiose conspiracy which has been fomented and forwarded by Satan since the Tower of Babel and even before the Great flood. I do strongly suggest – and hope as much – that the reader will not simply take my word for prophetic things, but will check them out by studying carefully the Scriptures, by praying earnestly, and by reading and searching whatever and wherever necessary in order to acquire prophecies' magnificent wealth.

And finally, I must be honest with the reader: any history of the world, regardless how quintessential is an ambitious undertaking. Under the best of circumstances any journey as long as the evolution of the Antichrist Spirit of Empire could become arduous and bumpy and convoluted in distracting details. It could even get bogged down altogether. In searching for a vehicle which could provide the reader with a smooth and fluid ride, one that could quickly negotiate the dusty trails of six thousand years, it occurred to me early that God's history might be best likened to a play. Concerned, however, that the analogy might cheapen the sober importance of understanding God's plan for Man's redemption, or that the analogy could even take on a kind of life of its own and somehow overshadow, or obscure, the simplicity of God's linear plan, I put the idea aside and returned to ordering things from beginning to end as a disciplined historian should, letting the pieces of prophecy fall as they would into their rightful places. It was only at the conclusion of a full and complete draft that I revisited the idea of the analogy and decided to test it, hoping it would give each part of the unfolding story a kick start where my style might be lacking.

At the same time, I hoped the running analogy would encourage those who shrink from the study of history, as dry and boring, to see God's plan of redemption, not as a chain of unrelated dates and times and events, unable to light the way of our future, but instead as a prewritten, tightly produced, closely directed, well-lit drama with a provocative beginning and a decisive climax. Each scene of prophistory is in continuity with the one that precedes it and the one which follows; because God's plan of redemption is linear and pre-determined. One can rightly view history as that part of the play of life which has already been acted out. One can therefore rightly view the future as that part of the play which we anticipate with excitement, which remains to be acted out. The last acts of the 'The Redemption Play' are now being played out before our eyes, we are the actors in the drama that is being acted out on the World stage as we speak. "Elisha's Outcast Eagles" website is recording the drama; it is evident that the play is fast approaching its climax.

PART I

THE MINISTRY OF PROP HISTORY

I. Prophistory And Our Ministry

Elisha's Outcast Eagles' Primary Ministry is to Inform Souls About the Invitation to Life ...

Elisha's Outcast Eagles' website is dedicated to daily following and explaining the ongoing fulfillment of prophecies which in themselves are daily and actively broadcasting the imminent return of Jesus Christ to Earth. This will happen first in order with his appearing in the clouds to call his 'relatively' few faithful disciples home, and second, a subsequent but not necessarily immediately following the Rapture, a seven year period which thirdly will immediately follow His bodily return to Earth, when He will defeat and judge both the Antichrist and the World and institute His promised Millennial thousand year reign of love and justice on Earth.

To impart knowledge and encourage faith for this, God has devised a science which we call 'prophistory'; which is a combining of the words prophecy and history, which the EOE hopes will impart knowledge and wisdom to any soul anywhere on Earth so that they may escape the onslaught of things prophesied in the Bible and find eternal life in God alone.

It is the fulfillment of God's prophecies which we both follow and note as true and worthy history that will allow us to overcome the perversions of truth that Man and Satan are devising to overwhelm the truth that Christ is the only Savior of Man. Prophistory and its understanding is designed to impart faith to believe that God's prophecies about the so-called Rapture, the world-wide dictatorship of Antichrist, all things in the World, the Jews, religion, Satan and the Return of Jesus to judge the whole world are more than a sign of His great love and mercy. They are daily in the works, in the process of coming to pass.

These cascading biblical prophetic matters are orchestrated from heaven to show us with dramatic reality that God's Word is true. He knows the beginning to the very end. This is the time to get our house in order, so we may not only survive, but that we may escape with our eternal soul and enter into eternal life.

Elisha's Outcast Eagles primary ministry is to inform those who might have a chance to take this seriously, those who have been abused by evils, who are fearful, battered and beaten by life, addicted to harmful things, disheartened and lonely feeling, those who are confused about God, jaded by modern religion and its empty promises, those overwhelmed by the speed of life and confused by the empty claims of false man-devised sciences; to turn their lives over to the living Savior so they can find healing and confidence of peace, who can be given a heart to face life with hope and genuine enthusiasm of joy. Prophistory is the science of prophecy which is the subject matter of the hundreds of pages of Elisha's Outcast Eagles website.

God has done this for us at Elisha's Outcast Eagles. We know whereof we speak. We were born into this world labeled as Christians – that is, born of a Christian tradition and heritage. That, however, did not mean we were in truth and reality Christian, especially in the sight of God and Jesus Christ. Yet, we now can personally attest that God is alive and real, and that we have become Christian in the actual sense of the name.

This conversion did not come about by being sprinkled or dunked in some supposed holy water through someone else making the decision for us, or by applying our own ignorant decision. It did not come by being coerced into it by a parent or friend or mate; or by way of some religious prevailing pressure that had no chance of touching the inner heart and core of our one's very being, that is, the bottom of our spiritual heart. Nor was it done as so many religious experiences may bring about, by droning some half-baked commitment, lamely believed, and warmed over by some cheesy testimony which was digested as with fast-food delight only to leave one almost instantly starving and hungry. For a true conversion should begin a new life and last a lifetime and forever.

We are not asking people for money, but we are telling people they can't help but be despicable and there is no way to escape their deficiencies but not to confess it away by seeing a priest or drinking some liquid out of a golden chalice. We urge people that they can be free from the killer disease that is sin. Sin is not acceptable by the standards of The Elisha's Outcast Eagles because it will not be acceptable in our heavenly home to be. Among other things, Christ came to eradicate within us the sting of eternal death and the sin that causes the death of our eternal soul. God, we have accepted, and will freely tell people is impressed by action, by what one does, and not by the noise they make with words and declarations that are not followed by action and behavior in spirit, soul and body.

We can attest that God will do remarkable things for you, if you will allow Him to be your guide and confidant in all things. He is our only chance for peace of mind and clear conscience of heart; he is needed in these terribly distressing times more than ever before in history. A time when everyone uses words and religious systems to mask hypocrisy and clothe themselves with apparent righteousness and love when the thing regularly put on before leaving the house is self-love and lust for their own well-being. Many have been hurt by the hypocrisy of those who have acted so, those who use the name of Christ as a uniform and promote fairy-tales for their own gratification and love of power. We know many have been hurt by these worldly conditions and the true gospel of giving one's life to God has been appropriated for personal gain within what should be the sacred walls of places using the name of Christ.

We hope to deliver this hope of new life not just to those who have suffered spiritual abuse from Christians but to anyone who has been on the outside suffering the cruelties of Man and evil, and the loneliness of life and has been a foreigner to love – for whatever reason. To those who are estranged from Mankind, who have nowhere to belong. To those who do not belong.

We are seeking to inspire people with hope that Jesus is alive and is shortly coming back to straighten the mess out that we men and women have made of His creation – the Earth. We seek to hand the invitation to come to Christ. We especially hope to give the invitation to believe and fall into the arms of God, to believe His Christ, His Son and Savior, is about to be married to a select Wife, one who has simply been true and trusting and has shunned the World and Man. The table is set, the food is ready and the battle for lordship of the earth is now in array. There is little time left for falling into His arms.

We do not wish to give lame advice, or lead people down the garden path. As religious folk in Christian Churches sadly are wont to do, just to feather their own nest. Rather than advising you to become just another piece in the whole lame Church mess of today, we hope first and foremost that you will find 'church' in your own heart; for it must live there first and foremost.

We know it was important for us that we had someone to share this with, someone with whom agreed. We hope this for any of you who have experienced the worst thing a human being can have to endure – being alone. If ever a soul is to become friends with Christ and any other soul that has escaped the death grip of loneliness then they have escaped the revenge of the 'World', that thing which had abused them so greatly, and it is Christ's doing and His mercy. We desire to direct a person to God and Jesus Christ first and foremost, so that God can point out the terms of life, friendship and the glories of loving relationships among God and His creations. We hope to tell you kindly of those conditions for living, loving friendships that can come only from walking with him and enjoying his companionship and friendship while living in His very house with Him.

It more than aggravates, it infuriates The EOE that the array of the various churches have muddled Christ's power, mixed it with man's flawed wisdom and now thinks they are the perfect fountain of truth and love. Due to changing God's Word and ignoring its Truth the last days Church at Large called Laodicea is and has allowed enemy spirits a vocal voice within their church walls. These abusive World's false claims of good and salvation and love are a mixture akin to the cool-aid drunk by the bewitched congregants who perished at Jonestown three decades ago in the throws of the beginning of the end that began to herald in earnest the return of Christ to this reeling Earth.

The heart of our website goes out to the disenfranchised and the hapless Christian here and there, who lay sick, atrophies, alone and withering away, dying in the pews and seats of their churches, racked with spiritual disease and drinking from the cup of worldly sickness themselves. To those countless millions wandering forlorn without hope, at the mercy of the merciless spirit of pharmacia. We do not want your money, or your reassurances.

Our website is our pulpit, The word of God our message, the on-going fulfillment of prophecy our proof that the message of the Bible is from God, that it is true and that it is coming into being even as we speak.

A Final Word for: Friendship and the Third Person: The Holy Ghost

Since the process of Jesus's return is fully underway Jesus's return must be quite soon, this, all the signs of prophecy daily confirm. We believe that the place to find secure hope is in the ongoing fulfillment of biblical prophecy. There is hope and a future to look forward to, if you will embrace a relationship with God's Son. This means seeing and receiving Christ not as an object that can fulfill your health and happiness, but rather as both the God and human being that He is. He loves you and that He has your best interest at heart. His priority is eternal life for you. This means loving him as a person with all our heart, mind, soul and strength as the first commandment advises us. He is not to be used as an object for our whimsical desires or selfish wants, one to be manipulated to give us our way, but rather as the brother and sister who is a true and perfect friend, which we hope to turn out to be a true blue friend with, as well as allowing him to be our mentor and exclusive pilot, the executor of every aspect of our life. For this purpose, he is willing to teach us of his perfection in love for us. We should trust that he will provide for us relationships that ought to be cultivated by love. For this he will allow us to be 'baptized' in the person of the Holy Spirit, the one spirit who can mentor us in spiritual matters and guide us as a tutor "into all truth". This is available to those who have accepted the friendship and lordship of Jesus in a personal fashion, for God the Father will give the Holy Ghost to those who ask, regardless of their sex or station in life or their degree of knowledge.

We hope the pages of the EOE will be of some help of God's fulfillment of the so-called six-fold ministry of Jesus Luke 4:18-19, especially in the lives of people who have been, as we have been, estranged from regular church experiences. The downtrodden and beaten, those bruised and disillusioned, can be healed of the injury and fear inflicted upon them by the ruthlessness of this frigid world and the churches that are, frankly, more interested in what they can get out of a relationship with Christ rather than loving and befriending Jesus for who and what he has always been. Jesus died for us that we could become his and his father's friends, and even so that some could become his eternal bride and wife.

These things we believe we can humbly impart to our readers, even that we could become friends, if not here, certainly in eternity. We do this without asking anything of our readers, but to allow us to be there for you in relating the invitation to the marriage supper of the Lamb which God the Father is now issuing to people who are limping along, alone, in the highways and byways of this hectic, spastic end-times world.

We urge what God asks, only that those who are called to the Marriage feast put on the spiritual 'garments' (which are those strong and goodly attributes of loving Christ, who died for us) which he will provide for us by teaching us of His Word. He requires that we follow the noteworthy promises which are on display regularly as fulfilled prophecy;- for the current flow of the fulfillment of prophecy regularly streaming forth on the pages of Elisha's Outcast Eagles is to encourage us that Jesus' appearing in the clouds and His subsequent return to earth are imminent and that there are regular people who are being called to be born again who are now actual Christians who are being extricated in spirit from this World, and some are even being made rapture-ready.

God seeks not those who are world beaters, but he seeks to save those who have been beaten by the world. His heart goes out to them – perhaps even you. The fulfillment of prophecy condemns the world as false, giving impetus to those who can hear it, see it, believe it. It offers healing and solace from modern life's frightening confusion, from the pain of curious and disturbing evils perpetrated by those who should have loved us but could not – would not. We can be severed from the hold of this life and the world in which it exists. Only when we enter a new life by coming into the arms of Christ can we be freed from the old. Though one remain in body in this hard and cruel place, one need not be part of it in soul and spirit. We then are no longer part of it, not aligned with it. We are now armed with the truth and have available to us the strength to face tough times, and the hope that we are to be delivered from its scourge. If anyone comes to Him their certain future is eternal life with love and true friendship.

2. About Prophistory

Prophistory is a term invented for the Science of Prophecy: Past, Present Being Fulfilled and the Future is Now...

Prophistory is a term coined by Terry Myers Smith to denote the science employed by Elisha's Outcast Eagles. It is a study for the purpose of alerting prospective Brideship/disciples and general invitees to the Marriage Supper, to 'Look up' in active preparatory anticipation for the appearing of the Lord. For as the Bible states it – 'His return draws nigh'.

That part of Theo-sociology that we call Prophistory can best be understood when it is equated to the relatively new and worldly 'science' Sociology (which is discussed in a separate article within our pages on Prophistory). Sociology, of course, deals with the social relations and institutions of Mankind, specifically, community and society, which strictly is defined as "the study of the association of man with his fellow man". Theo-Sociology is therefore the discipline of studying man's living association with one another under the strictures and declarations of God as its head with his ordained institutions, regulations, laws and most importantly his ideas and concepts of society which were instituted by Him in the nation of Israel established in the first five Books of the Bible known generally as the Pentateuch, or the Law. Therein were established religious and social laws for governing the nation, law and social order of every aspect of life, including the economy, military and society (This is the goal of church also, which is far from necessarily occurring; which He directly addresses in chapters 2 and 3 of the final book of the Bible: The book of Revelation). God has always made promises to Man by clear and definite declarations. These promises are delivered by the method called prophecy. His prophecies are binding because he has promised to tell us his plans and his doings before they ever occur. They may be a word from God on a general or specific matter, concerning a subject, a person(s) or event in time which is yet to be realized. But it is certainly something that will come to pass in its proper time and in God's own way. Prophecy is subordinate to nothing, only God himself who knows all things.

Prophistory is therefore both the study of things which have been announced and have come to pass and also things that have been declared but remain unfulfilled and are yet to come.

The things of Prophistory which have already come into being are fulfilled prophecy. They are worthy of awareness and study because they are living proof that God is, and that he is in complete control of all the affairs of this world, no matter how it may look to us, and that he will certainly put into full and complete implementation all his promises of Theo-Sociology and things related to it. All matters of Prophistory, whether fulfilled or yet to be fulfilled, are validated by their remarkable fulfillment. They have been written down for our study and awareness before they have come into being. This is the primacy and delight of the Bible and His Word.

God combines things that are man-induced, happenings of natural phenomena, or things satanically inspired while using his prophets, signs in nature, world political and military affairs, wonders and miracles, and his word in the Book of Books, to set up the fulfillment and to declare his prophecies. By these things he gives us fair warning of his doings, and in particular uses them as signs of his return so that a person might be fully prepared for that monumental event, that they might escape the inevitable fallout and judgment of that day. He uses these prophetic methods in combination to confirm that his prophecies are valid and true, so that his proclamations of Theo-sociology are founded on fact not speculation, using his method that all things must be established by two or three witnesses.

I realize this may sound a bit off-beat, maybe even complicated, yet it remains simple and true. Just as the development of sociology, let us say, required scientifically rational methods of deduction and induction to form its hypotheses of help and hope while drawing up its models for analyzing the needs of human society. Lying within those parameters of study are religion, law, philosophy, education, economy, political science, and so forth. The hope and purpose of sociology, whether presumed, spoken, or implied is to advise us how to reach certain approved goals of perfection under the parameters and rules of science. Not unlike that reject politico-sociology dubbed Communism, it claims to use scientific method to identify the needs of the whole, then examine and define the social condition and structure of societies and come up with answers for the perfect society.

It claims that man can come to proper judgment of what is bad or good. By judging and grading the cultural effectiveness for serving the needs of the individual human being within the bounds of the social arrangements and restrictions imposed, we can come up with social institutions and binding strictures. So it is postulated: by both honorary and legal binding order, and by the pressure of public opinion and herd mentality of agreed upon systems of behavior and binding taboos, with ideas of morality that will suit every individual we can forge a perfect community of well meaning creatures living in harmony together in respect and admiration.

Yeah, right!!! It will never happen.

Problem is, within that 'science' of sociology there is much disagreement on the current state of world-wide development of unity that is in that ancient spirit of Alexander the Great of the brotherhood of man. Men and women do not even see eye to eye on social standing or the nature of equality. At the same time cultural diversity is applauded, even demanded by the basic tenets of the science of sociology. The underlying supremacy of world-unity politics encourages religious chants for one world under one God while belittling religion at every chance.

Sociology must kowtow to tyrannical humanism. Crowned by consent of democracy, which as the Greeks knew is really the tyranny of the masses, we are enslaved to that modern usurping 'god' of mob rule. The mob now wears a black robe, has its hair combed and wears a benevolent smile. It is the idol of our own making; it rules us and we are its captive. The only escape is to trust in Theo-Sociology, where the science of Prophistory can light the way to a sure and certain port of salvation, even if one cannot escape its cold clutches in this thorny life. But it is in the warm arms of salvation's spiritual freedom that our soul is rescued from the usurping hosts of the false assurances and boney grip of humanism's slavery and spiritual death. Prophistory is a prime key to setting the captive free.

Many paradigms and disciplines of human study, also claiming scientific status as having fruitful knowledge through analytical study, must be recognized and incorporated into the sociologists' models. These include disciplines as far ranging as history, because it can show the sociologist what may have been successful or unsuccessful in the past and political science because it shows how governments are affecting the good or bad of society. Philosophy shows man's reason and knowledge; and other intellectual disciplines such as, anthropology, archaeology, evolution and that other behavioral science, psychology, which is used to study man's motivations, inner desires, and thought processes, etc., are also in this battery of human sciences that supposedly can perfect man's relationships and save the world. Sociology uses all these paradigms of the humanities trying to structure society into a utilitarian conglomerate of collective good. And so, this new science called Sociology creates an end-time vision of a Utopic world. How it comes up with a vision, not scientifically, but fashioning it by its very limited idea and into something it naively and erroneously believes it ought to be, is by belittling God and any idea of him having a personal relationship with mankind collectively or individually.

Prophistory proves the contrary. Prohistory proves God is involved both personally and collectively with the affairs of men and women everywhere and for all time.

It is required of Sociology to recognize and include the other paradigms of knowledgeable science. The empirical sciences with various associate paradigms: physics, geology, hydrology, physiology, mechanics, mathematics, microbiology, and so forth are bundled together like the ancient fasces, that ancient symbol of the roman republic which stood for the unbroken power of the law and authority over the people. This is the structural psychology and philosophy of the science of humanistic Sociology. It is the mind control and part of the legacy of the original Roman Empire that ruled by force of law over the hearts and minds and lives of the civilized world. This is that same empire that scourged the one who really loves us conspiring with the rest of whole of mankind to put him to death on the cross.

3. Defining Bible Prophecy

Prophistory Comes Exclusively
From The Bible ...

Bible prophecy tells us what will happen but often does not reveal how it will be fulfilled. Prognostication and prediction is unnecessary, even harmful. God's plan has a beginning, a middle, and an end. We know what the end is before it happens because of prophecy. God has stated his goals for a new world where righteousness will win out and everyone will get a fair shake administered with merciful kindness on a persistent and consistent regular basis. Each paradigm is heading in this just and merciful direction. Ultimately under the lordship of the one who loves Man and proved it by his death on the cross, this justice will be ministered from the center of the earth in Jerusalem. From there the true and just religion will be practiced and Jesus Himself will be the administrator, judge, priest and king of the perfect society laid out by God's law of the land. It will be applied to all the nations around the globe. This is the essence of the goals of all the paradigms, and their own various and particular categories, of prophecy that are converging simultaneously into a confluence of prophetic final fulfillments at the same time. This is how we know the end is near, because all prophecies are flowing into their final destination at the same time. Therefore, in a spiritual sort of laboratory, we observe and monitor the flow of events and things leading to the events, of each paradigm of prophecy as they lead to the end goal.

Along the way, the ultimate Antichrist spirit, which is the coming 'kingdom' and premier leader on earth, will precede the return of the righteous lord.

When this man and his new world kingdom takes power and makes a deal (covenant) with the apostate and traitorous leaders of Israel, then the seven year period of the end of man's rule on earth will begin. Each paradigm is full of judgments that are designed to bring out the truth while orienting and aligning the faithless and rebellious inhabitants of this end-times world with the conglomerate spiritual and worldly forces of Antichrist. In the end, all Antichrist sentiment and power will be purged in favor of a good and true reign of God on earth. There are any prophecies going on right now that are funneling toward this final destination.

All paradigm judgments are today being fast tracked by God so that their evolution into their end-times form and position will be full and complete. These are the goals of prophecy as preparing the way, so that the end-times confrontation between God and this unsavory and unbelieving world can take place.

All paradigms of prophecy point not only to the appearing of Christ and His Second Coming but the very necessity of it, for the sake of righteousness and welfare of mankind. On the other hand, all paradigms are profoundly revolutionary in that they bring out the oppositional change to God's ways that lie festering in the hopes and plans of a defiant world. They bring to the surface this opposition to God and His truth, while producing a shift, even a 180 degree turn around, where the modern man and the world is found in its true defiant stance, i.e. in total opposition to God in every paradigm and segment of society everywhere.

4. Prophistory Provides Hope Not Fear

Prophistory Reveals a Future For Those Who Love Christ Which Will be Forever Secure in Love ...

A day hardly goes by that we do not cringe for some ominous, hideous event or affair that has descended upon the world's public domain, trickling down, intruding like a toothache into our private lives. They create unavoidable concerns, even fears that this disaster may have a domino effect that will lead to drastic repercussions for us.

We must endure war after war; unprecedented natural disasters, viral plagues and strange pestilences, psychosis, suspicion from neighbors, drugs everywhere, famines, political upheavals and constant economic turmoil, with overwhelming chaos and demands put on us by boss, family and society. There is no place to hide, not for believers or unbelievers, not from the worries and fears that stalk every household from Malibu to Mozambique, in London and Prague to Islamabad, Cairo, St. Louis, Mexico City, Argentina or Beijing. There is neither place to turn, nor is there a man to whom the World can rely, though one man shall shortly force his dominance and big brother government on a beleaguered, weary world in the days just ahead.

The spirit and mind of the one who came and died to save us from these desperate matters is the only credible and believable guide through such dark turbulence of world-wide evils and catastrophes. These are universal evils that surround the everyday lives of people and societies in every nook and cranny, every corner of the globe.

No, there is but one man and with his book, including its profusion of prophecies to which we can turn. We suggest that you accept the invitation of the Spirit of Christ and turn to Him for help. Accept the invitation to escape the judgment that is rapidly descending upon the World and its inhabitants, just as the Bible, the prophets and Jesus himself have foretold. Give yourself to Him and He will make you His very own, even His spouse for all eternity, if you give him your heart. This is what this website amounts to – an invitation not to religion but to come to Jesus Christ, to see the magnitude of prophetic judgments which are falling like meteors, bombs, hailstorms all at once out of nowhere, falling all about us.

They may even become ‘like’ Him and it will all come to fruition when she sees Him in the day of her wedding, which is the resurrection of the first fruits so-called in the bible, commonly known as the Rapture. This is the reason that we believe the Rapture is not the general resurrection of those in line for eternal life, but the first of the stages of resurrection, reserved for His bride and all those who make up the bride. We wait as the ten virgins of the biblical parable wait for that instantaneous moment which no one but the father knows the time, not even Christ knows. For this reason we are dedicated to the invitation to the marriage supper for all those who may hear its call, and might even become the bride of the bridegroom.

5. Six Paradigms of Prophistory

Paradigms of Prophistory

Cover the Gamut of End-Times

Bible Prophecy ...

There are six major paradigms of Prophistory. 1) Antichrist 2) World 3) Israel 4) Church 5) Phenomena 6) Travel & Knowledge.

When applied earnestly the on-going observance of these end-times prophetic paradigms can raise us up like eagles so that we can sit above time in a privileged place having the advantage of a quintessential bird's eye view.

The first four paradigms – 1) Antichrist 2) World 3) Israel & 4) Church – have promised ends with a Theo-sociology purpose. The two other paradigms 5) Phenomena and 6) Travel & Knowledge are paradigms of a natural scientific sort that speak particularly about the nearness of the end before the return of Christ to earth.

The 'control' (or constant) in our study is the great percentage of fulfilled Bible prophecy that can be proven to have already come to pass in each of the six individual paradigms. Those may be discovered in a variety of forms, from Genesis, the Major and Minor Prophets, the Four Gospels, and within the other 66 books of the Bible. It is quantifiable. The world is God's laboratory and therefore every fulfillment in it helps to give us confidence in the validity of our 'laboratory' study. We can accurately monitor and identify results, record the evidence of the fulfillment of things leading to or moving toward the fulfillment of the declared end, particularly in each of the four major paradigms. This site is dedicated to following, tweeting, blogging and answering questions regarding the path of each of these paradigms of prophecy as they unfold in the news and in current affairs around the globe.

These six paradigms (of proven tangible, empirical streams of God's prophesied means of judgment) can be identified, analyzed and tagged because they are in a state of being fulfilled or have already happened.

Paradigm Descriptions

Antichrist: Nimrod is the archetype of Antichrist. He and his family became the first artificial trinity vying with God for power over the earth. He is also the first Antichrist and thereby represents the prototype and fountain of the conspiracy to usurp God's throne and to become the undisputed sovereign and, by default, the savior of the world and all of mankind. Nimrod is, therefore, the originator and face of the post-Flood rebellion against the sovereignty of God.

World: Since the revolution of technology and knowledge which ramped up two and a half centuries ago and has since reached mach speed in the last three decades, the spirit of Babel has invaded the globe knocking on the door of nuclear powers, third world countries, ancient dynasties in the east and every island on earth. The spirit can stake claim to being the actual religion of the world because it encompasses the continents and the seven seas. Now, thanks to technology, knowledge and speed the World can come together unrestrained as they once did in provincial fashion at the Tower of Babel. It is in the same spirit that Man has decided to pin all his hopes on – his science and intellect. The final objective of this rebellion being to shake off God so Man can rule the world themselves without enduring what they consider to be God's meddling interference.

Israel: The Hebrew people came into their own as a nation at that time when they were transformed into a sovereign nation all their own, the nation known ever since as Israel.

Through the leadership of Moses and the guidance of God the children of Israel escaped Egypt, eventually settling within the boundaries of the promised land which God had promised to the fore-father Abraham. Moses' successor, Joshua, led them into the Promised Land around the year 1500 B.C. when the history of Israel as a nation began in earnest. Its history of prophetic happenings can be traced in timeline fashion – including the contemporary prophetic events and matters that are in a state of being fulfilled in these tumultuous last days.

Church: Abraham walked in faith on this earth two millennia before the advent of the Messiah, yet he is the forerunner of those Christians most faithful, which includes those purely faithful ones who have been true to the spirit of the Bride of Christ since Abraham to the present day and up 'til the appearing of Christ at His Second Coming. His life and calling are clearly the initial prophetic events of the Church, the start of the prophetic paradigm of Church and the prophetic carpet that points the Church to the path of salvation and resurrection. The occurrences, the drama and fulfillment's of Church matters, can be recorded in a timeline of its history. Thereby we can walk through Old and New Testament events straight to the last days, up to the rapture of Jesus' close friends, past the end of things and up to the return of the Lord and Savior which shall usher in a thousand year perfect reign on earth by Jesus the Messiah. Those Hebrews and Christians who lived an Abrahamic faith and became, in simple humility, a friend of God shall reap the greatest rewards...

Phenomena: Noah and his three sons, with their wives, were shut up in a boat while the waters obliterated the offense with all its offending parties; a fitting judgment by an earthly phenomenon upon those who had corrupted the earth. The earth had gotten its revenge, a righteous judgment upon those who were destroying the earth by partaking in a most perverse rebellion. It was the first of judgments under the prophetic paradigm of 'phenomenon' that was accomplished to put down a rebellion against God's work of creation. But God did not leave it at that. He put the second sign of Phenomenon, the rainbow in the sky, to reassure us that He would never totally destroy the seed of Adam, but that we could have hope that He will redeem it and provide eternal life for the faithful who believe.

Travel and Knowledge: And though at the end, knowledge would so increase, and travel would grow to an unimaginable lightning pace, so that Man would once again embark on a full-out rebellion of mismanagement of knowledge to compete against God for lordship over the earth, God's Word still holds true. His correct and right appropriation of the power of knowledge must and will win out. As it says in the book of Daniel, chapter 12, verse 10: and none of the wicked shall understand; but the wise shall understand.

6. Revolutionary Nature of Final Prophecies

God's Prophecies are Counter-Revolutions against Man's Initial Revolutions ...

Last days judgments are orchestrated by God from heaven and are revolutionary, each having its own effect on the succeeding judgments. Satan conducts his counter-revolutionary reactions to God's plan, but with his own goal in mind. God knows Satan's counter-strategy and therefore, is always one step ahead of those plans. Also, Man is involved in revolutionary judgments and destiny but he is less in control being more a dupe of spiritual powers than having a clear cut idea of what to do, let alone of how to get it. Again, all prophecy is controlled and orchestrated perfectly according to God's Will and the two other parties involved – neither Satan nor Man can overturn or subvert God's plan.

Over the course of history, God has given man time and space to repent of his initial rebellion and sin. He has judged and chastened us through all aspects of the prime prophetic paradigms. Often God has accomplished this chastening and judgment by warning us through judgments from various Phenomena directed from heaven; often He has let the cruel hands of antichrist and man bring judgment, often by having our own inventions and genius turn on us, at other times bogus religion has taken its toll.

In these final years, He has fulfilled his ancient promise to Israel, returning them to the land. He has revived the promises to the Church by revitalizing it with the power of Holy Spirit and giving it spiritual gifts, not least of all, understanding and wisdom and knowledge of prophecy. But – all the sins of man – hatred, lying, adultery, dishonor of parents, bloodshed – the list goes on, have gone full circle so that defiance, disobedience, and rejection of God's promises are at the highest level of all time in all four of the socio/political realms: Antichrist, Spirit of Rebellion, God's People Israel and The Churches, not to mention the other two paradigms: Phenomena and those of Man's Innovations of knowledge, technology and travel. Final judgment is ripe.

God's prophetic plan is essentially revolutionary because it will ultimately change the way of government, society, religion and culture everywhere on earth. When Christ returns there will be a clean sweep of all things in every nation and island around the world, whether Islamic, Eastern, Western, Christian or Heathen. God's plan is the ultimate in perfection to bring in the real Great Society with the omniscience of God at its head. This is revolutionary because, though it was instituted and offered to Israel, it has never been adhered to, Man's freewill rejecting it in favor of its own thirst for power.

We see a model of this master plan to radically change things in true revolutionary style, in the unfolding three segments of seven-fold judgment during the so-called 'Tribulation' period which ends with Christ's return. The first set of seven-fold judgments are natural (or man induced) and relate to the oppression of the man and kingdom of Antichrist, wars, famines, economic depression, pestilence, death, and ultimately hellish things which are defined in some detail as the book of Revelation later describes. The second and third sets of judgments not only affect governments and world affairs but are of more supernatural forces coming from both, heaven and hell affecting natural resources, climate, celestial bodies and life sustaining necessities like food and water. All things are related and all things are revolutionary in that they bring about fundamental and diametric changes each related realm also affecting other realms in a revolutionary way to further the revolutionary changes which are diametrically opposed to the way men have ruled and operated in this world, especially at the end which is the culmination of the way men do things without conceding to God's ways.

Any judgment of these last days which is leading to the ultimate fulfillment of one of the paradigms of prophecy, as with the judgment which fell upon the Japanese nation after the Sendai earthquake for example, is worthy of consideration by the science of prophecy as an instrumental part of the overall ultimate and comprehensive fulfillment. The ultimate fulfillment of the six paradigms are, generally speaking, pictured in the three judgments each with a cascading seven-fold cascading series of judgments which are outlined and discussed in the EOE book on Revelation.

A revolutionary judgment of the end-times, such as an earthquake for example, will no longer be conducted in a prophetic vacuum, without effect on other 'revolution-producing' end-times judgments. Each category of revolutionary judgment, points to the reality that the coming of Christ is imminent. But each judgment, because it is intertwined to affect other on-going judgments, is a contagious judgment touching not just a single paradigm or category within a paradigm but a broader spectrum of multiple paradigms of end-times prophecy. This is to say, that all paradigms are related, first because they are things happening simultaneously with one another, all leading and pointing to the judgment and return of Christ.

Each sign of the end-times, as a judgment, is part of the prophetic process that is being orchestrated to bring about actual conversion of normality by revolutionary means into, not only novel things, but excellent and true things under the just rule of Christ.

These changes are part of the momentum of end-times prophecy always proceeding toward the end-times conditions and goals declared in Biblical prophecy, including the ultimate antichrist government, globalization of the world economy, the hardening hearts of man toward God and faith, and the stealthy motives of satanically inspired supernatural powers.

The changes brought by fulfilled prophecy may be as small as amounting to nothing more than a decision made by a government that is leading toward the conglomeration of nations into an international government of one ruling union of federated nations, which has its ultimate biblical fulfillment in what is known as the ten kings which is the foundation for the Antichrist dictatorship during the seven year Tribulation. Or events leading up to a fulfillment could also produce a drastic and complete change in itself; as will be the case when the kingdom of the new world order, called the ten kings, is actually announced, formed and ratified.

In any regard, judgments of the end have this in common: they are machinery set in motion to revolutionize or overturn what is the established norm, so that a totally new world can emerge at the coming of Christ. The prophecies of the Bible, when considered together, reveal that in the last days the world will be a completely changed place, changed by revolutions especially in knowledge, travel and technology, by revolutions that have been prophesied in the Bible that have, and are now, affecting every sphere and realm of man's existence on the planet.

PART II

RISE OF HUMANITIES AT END

7. Rise and Evolution of Sciences at End

Time for Prophetic
Science to Answer
Science of Man

... It is time for God's Prophetic Science – The Science of Prophistory – to square off with Man's sciences and its vastly limited perspective. I say limited because it does not have a quintessential position from which to judge and direct the mind, soul and spirit of Man who is sorely confined by the gravity and limits of the horizon of this Earth. God's scientific truths and his great prophetic onslaught in these last hours before Christ's return reach into the spiritual realm, and are not confined to material realms exclusively. The realm of the Spirit is revealed in God's Word which was verified in the body at the coming of His Son, Jesus Christ, who lived and died and was resurrected from the dead and was raised bodily before the eyes of men who testified that they saw him bodily rise into heavenly realms.

This, the science of earthbound men cannot explain and therefore they can not and will not accept it; for it is one of the creeds of science that if their science can not verify it then it must not be true. But we who have witnessed the miracles of God in body, soul and spirit know that His science is greater and more comprehensive than that which is subjected to Man's limited knowledge, understanding and wisdom.

Take for example, Auguste Comte, once a mental patient recovering from multiple suicide attempts, gave birth to the notion that 'society' has a spirit and soul all its own and that we can somehow hog-tie this personality and organize society to our advantage where men and women can learn to live together in some semblance of order and good will. This is called Sociology. It is the idea compatible with Sir Thomas Moore's famous 17th Century work: Utopia. Freud's associate, the psychologist Carl Jung, contributed his part to this delusional premise when he developed his idea he called, the 'world collective unconscious' which is the mind of the world, described perfectly and clearly in the pages of the Bible thousands of years ago by the authors of such books of Ecclesiastes, Proverbs, the five books of the Jewish law in which God established the original Great Society, the book of Psalms, the New testament Epistles, etc, etc.

Man can never come up with the perfect notion of society, let alone its actual existence. Yet this is the claim which has been made since early times. It has become an arrogant in these last days. Only the Creator can do such a thing. Theo-Sociology (or God's society) is the only true and perfect sociology and that will not come until all the wrong and imperfect attempts of Man are sorted out and shown to be utter failures. It will not come until Jesus, the only one who cannot and will not be corrupted, bribed or cajoled, sits as the impartial and honest head of society's law and justice with perfect integrity. Without a perfect head no society can ever be perfect; and there is only one perfect Man who can lead society into perfection.

Sociology and Psychiatry, and the other contrivances of mens' sciences, are in fact, the heart and soul of the end-times “religion of humanity”. Comte was elevated to god-father of that ‘science’ we call Sociology. Sigmund Freud made a science out of clinical psychoanalysis and Wilhelm Wundt claimed to have turned introspection of the soul into an experimental but bona-fide science. These two pioneers may be considered co-creators of the dubious scatter-brained science loosely named Psychology. Each of the humanity disciplines, squirming restlessly beneath the canopy of the true disciplines called history and philosophy, have since conjoined with even more specific fields of vague and gooey half-baked sciences which are presented as iron-clad disciplines, even if they are nothing but confectionary sugar-filled raisin cake feel-good speculative theories of nonsense. A card-counter sitting at the black-jack table in some casino somewhere is making use of better science than these supposed scientists of the human mind and heart.

While adding weight to their résumé as legitimate scientists by employing scientific methodology and quantitative accumulation of laboratory results, they make believe that their science is something born out of a test tube. Actually it is born out of an over-active imagination. We have bought into psychology as something cognitively true and therefore valid. Truth is these endeavors are pseudo-sciences, even surrealistic experiments conducted from within Dr. Frankenstein’s weird lab of fear. Formed within Comte-like distorted minds, they have gone stumbling and limping darkly never able to keep stride with reality’s steady march. Freud’s theories of sexual perversion come from his own weird Oedipus complex which he projected on mankind and sold them as a science. Only the words and wisdom of God can keep us in touch with reality and the actual things of reality.

Not only is God the only one who knows and sees unseen realities of the mind and heart, but he is the only one who really knows and understands what the eyes are seeing and cannot see in this world. If ever the saying "Physician heal thyself" be true, it applies to the psychotherapist and the doctors of science and sociology who sit blinking and squinting and dolling out mind changing drugs in hospitals and other institutions. These places have turned into vendors of drugs. Every institution from education and schools and courts of law serving as fronts for drug parlors for disturbed minds while seducing people with regular mental problems to acquiesce to drugs as their physician, lover and god. Beside this, the inmates now run the asylum; recovering addicts are the gurus of this religion that they call science. This is the main paradox of doom that comes from living under the care of so callous a parenting as the fraudulent sciences of which drugs is now king enthroned for excellent reasons like money, power, ease and luxury, and the expediency of returning the sick of heart and mind back to society as a productive member (supposedly) instead of throwing them into institutions like asylums, rehab houses or even prisons. Drugs are a cure for these ills but not for the patient.

This world-wide fraud has befallen us in this generation. We have abdicated, defaulted to the highly dubious methods that everyone knows is not what it claims to be. It is all about expediency from the nurse that has to control the patient to the Clockwork Orange-ian approach of using Ritalin to lobotomize third graders. Altering the mind synthetically with drugs to trick our spirits and confuse the soul is easier than dealing with people in a personal way. The scheme encourages the hurting soul into thinking that hope is all that we need, that everything is going to somehow be alright as long as our mind is temporarily massaged by subjective guesses and powerful mind altering drugs. The doctors in the white suits assure us everything will be OK even though they have to write a disclaimer about everything they promise. This will shrink, that will swell, you might not be able to sleep, or you might get internal bleeding. Just call me if any of these things happen and I'll give you another drug to help with it. We are talked into feeling good about ourselves and that we are in good hands of people who care. But don't look now. They're working for a company and it has its eye on the bottom line. Down deep we can't shake the feeling that it is all a hoax. Down deep many are not buying the deception. Never mind that we have to sell our soul hoping in the hopelessness of drugs. We lean on that debilitating man-made thingamabob called drug while conceding that we will have to limp on that hard core crutch for rest of our toilsome and crooked walk in this life.

It was the late 19th century philosopher Will James, who after briefly dabbling in the new science of Psychology, called it a "nasty little business". Regardless of modern science's reassurance and all of its self-protective disclaimers like: "don't blame us if we are not always right; or, if you get sickly side-effects from radiation fallout, or cancer, your water gets polluted, strange bugs attack your plants, global warming hurts your ponds, or your spouse has a case of runaway dandruff, don't blame us. Our exact science is not always that exact. Just trust us even when our words and methods dazzle you or our promises to cure you seem like a modern day version of a snake oil elixir. After all, we're doing the best we can; we're working with an inexact science you know."

The sciences of the humanities are fraudulent because they admit they are inexact while insisting that are reliable science. To make it worse these 'sciences' peddle themselves as Man's legitimate and best hope to right the ship though it admits we are teetering on disaster and annihilation from nuclear war, global warming or meteor showers. Each bogus science, including the drug culture, has been birthed in its own time out of its determination to replace faith in the Creator. They are inventions of Man dictated by the demands of the rebellious human mind though it gasps for air as it sinks in the wake of dying religion which could no longer carry Mankind's heavy cargo of hope toward a port of happiness where it might find peace in this passage way we call life. Still, in spite of the claims of counterfeit science, only Christ's ship, the only true religion can transport us safely to that port of health and peace that leaves launches from earth heading to that port of call in heaven.

8. Human Science Not Omnipotent Ruler

Aristotle inventor of Sciences of Humanities
of the End

... Aristotle is the great captain of this leaky ship we might call S.S. Human Sciences. Though there are many correct ideas and truths drawn from the natural sciences, from mathematics, biology, physiology, to astrophysics for example; the human sciences, under the ultimate control and tutelage of our limited mind and short-sighted conceptions can never know the true constructive purposes of the combined sciences without the tutelage of the one who has created those sciences. We speak of God, of course. Even real scientists from Newton to Einstein, Feynman and Hawking readily admit there has to be an Intelligent Being that has designed creation and has created its true laws; even the laws of uncertainty, which is just a way of providing for the scientific fact that God is the one who makes the call on everything and not some material law.

Aristotle, as Man's guru, described the sciences. He categorized them and declared them as quantitative empirical studies. He managed to roughly sketch them out, plugging even art and aesthetics into a paradigm he called science. Yet, given the condition of knowledge and technology at that time, he had no chance of developing them into the modern day hybrid form which they now exist. He did not have the technical devices, the access to knowledge, or essential tools like microscopes, etc. He did not have the current developed inductive methods at his disposal to advance his sciences; as they are in these culminating days of gathering end-times prophecy. Their full advance would take many centuries of discoveries and inventions that were not to be until the beginning of the last age of man's rule on earth, which is fully seen in the break-neck advances of technology, travel and knowledge over the last 250 years. (This was prophesied in the last chapter of the Book of Daniel.) The development of science on a worldwide scale touches every sphere of life and could never have taken place until knowledge, technology, liberty and freedom of locomotion, has come about on an extensive global scale. Now, through inconceivable and unimaginable inventions, prophecy has descended upon mankind like an avalanche dropping down from Mt. Olympus.

The railroad, steamship, telegraph, airplane, radio, television, rocket and jet, atomic powered submarines, satellite, cell phone, computer and internet are merely prime expressions of the discoveries and inventions that exemplify the amazing change in our world because of technology, travel and knowledge being increased exponentially in the last decades of man's rule on earth. The increase in travel and the dramatic increase in the liberty of mobility due to the automobile and jet plane, radio and TV have, in short, enthroned science in its all powerful place where it now sits atop the earth. Every culture, society, government and nation is now at the mercy of the increases of speed brought about by the technology of the 20th Century.

The exchange of money, its value and business of banking because of the microchip have caused credit and currency to be revolutionized to the point of being so unstable in the last two decades that no country or world financial institution like the IMF or World Bank or US Fed can control the beast that it has let out of the cage. The economy everywhere has changed more in the last ten years than it ever had since man first used cockle shells to buy a cow. It has come to pass that the greatest possession is a hand full of magic beans, that 401 K or equivalent assurance that I will have a nice ending to this laborious life. No longer is it that grandparents are hard pressed to keep up with the times, now even the parent is a dinosaur to the child. Before the offspring finishes high school and heads off with the iPad and credit cards into the three ring circus of higher learning leaving the parents and teachers behind in their archaic world.

While all areas of Aristotelian discussion and exploration of science were effectively stalled and frozen by history's staying hand, it has now been unleashed for the end-times so that its advancement could forecast the fact that Man's reign on earth is drawing to a close. God has allowed Man's science to advance to this hectic degree to prove that Man's methods of building a perfect society are not only vain and clumsy, but not even close to being just and fair, especially to the downtrodden and lost. Only now with the advances of empirical science making possible the one world conditions of travel and communication, has Man's stupid coronation of science as king actually been made possible. Science appropriately ushers in the final age of the unnatural predominance of technology with the glut of information impulsively being delivered with supernatural hectic speed appropriate to the final moments of the time in which we scurry around like busy bees humming away our lives on cell phones and buying things everyday on credit, fittingly with plastic.

The promise of Christ's return is not a plastic hope for fulfilled prophecy proves its validity. It is prophesied that his coming will be preceded by the head-spinning advances of our scientific age which fill our daily lives already. Who does not know that the present world in which we live is held under the electrifying spell of modern machine and the advance of technology. We must bow before it for it dictates the terms of our life hour by hour. Technology has now become the unchallenged ruler and hope of the entire globe. Effectively, technology is therefore a god among the pantheon of gods to be used by the ruler of this earth – the ultimate ruler being the one who looms on the world horizon – the one called Antichrist, who as the Bible prophesies shall worship “the god of forces” which science is just one aspect of the theology of Antichrist that ‘Might makes right’ HERE.

9. Force – Oppression: Begotten by Science of War ...

Inventions of Warfare for Empire and Oppression

... The so-called Dark Ages when ignorance, violence and oppression reigned free in the Antichrist kingdoms of Europe were just harbingers of things to come. For the real Dark Ages are yet to be, though they are approaching fast. They are approaching on the heels of the great wars and holocausts of the last century. They will arrive on the heels of that Man of sin who bring in a reign of terror and darkness that shall have no rival in history.

The steady stream of frustrated and impotent Neo-Roman Emperors, Christian Monarchs and Lords were in a state of perpetual and often violent competition with the Roman Pontiff and his autonomous Ecclesiastical legal authority which had an iron grip in every corner of Europe. The Princes of Europe, ever trying to keep this fractured state of affairs from coming unglued, were continually forced into ruling in haphazard and often desperate fashion, and always tyrannically. Mobility and speed was limited to the three mile an hour world of horses and wagons, at the mercy of the winds which took Roman triremes to ancient empires to conquer foreign armies and lands. The people were then slaves, kept chained to the loyalty of despots by harsh repression and servile feudalism that dated back to the early centuries of the Common Era. Since the invention of the wheel man had always been under the same restrictions. The days of Imperial Rome under Emperors Hadrian, Diocletian and Constantine and the warring petty emperors of medieval Europe set the stage for the age of darkness that descended upon the 'Roman Empire' and the succeeding empires that kept its legacy alive. All were under the subjection to the technology that confined advances until the Age of Reason and the Enlightenment which began the end-times technological revolution that took off with break-neck speed in the 20th Century.

Aristotle had been shoved into the shadows, relegated to a corner, rendered incomprehensible and futile during twelve dark centuries from 500-1700. It was a dozen centuries of time which has been dubbed the Dark Ages. The dark apostasy of the Christian Church coincided with the darkness of the world to help keep a lid of chaos and superstition that influenced, and at times dominated, governments and kings. Endless civil wars and competition between church and state harassed the Christian kingdoms of Europe and Asia. The Church, as an unwitting accomplice to ignorance and fear, was simultaneously warring against its mortal enemy, Islam. Mohammed's convoluted admixture of the Hebrew Scriptures, Arabian Folklore, and perverse distortions of Christ added to the stalling of progress and science. This was done however by the hand of Providence to allow for the salvation of countless numbers of humans during this time which the Bible has labeled the Age of Grace. The conflicts between Christian and Moslem were also prophesied by God to stand as part of the prophetic equation that today points to the reality and truth, validating that God has a plan and is in complete control of things earthly and heavenly, and that it shall continue right up to the end with the Antichrist and Islam (or whatever it may be called) to the very day of Armageddon.

The march of God's prophecy is relentless and always in his time. Relentless and aggressive, also, were the incursions of conquests of Islam. Plaguing the already fractured kingdom of the ever divided Antichrist states of Europe and its sister culture, the Byzantine Empire of the East. Islam was used by God to hold at bay the hybrid Roman Spirit of dictatorship by army and law. That the Antichrist empire would be divided, partly weak and partly strong, and Islam would be the wedge often used to keep her divided and weak, was directly promised by the prophecies of God in the supernaturally intriguing and profoundly true prophecies of the Book of Daniel. These prophecies were not to be fulfilled until the end time, right before the return of Christ. They flow now in this day like a torrential river of history pouring down with misty power into the lake of God's promises, especially pointing to the promised utopia headed up by the Christ that is shortly to come.

Those languishing centuries of medieval days are an age unto themselves, at the same time a historical kind of moratorium on science and Antichrist dominance. It was not until the revolutionary effects of the Renaissance and Enlightenment that things began to congeal in the minds of European philosophers and scientists in the 1700's, bubbling forth with unanticipated political and social force in the second half of 18th Century. In both the Old and New Worlds science was given a new birth which led to the all important birth of a new political state especially patented for the end-times which was fulfilled by and in the American and French Revolutions. The sciences were on the first leg of their freedom march heading for the high lectern upon which they would have political status. Napoleon and Benjamin Franklin and hundreds of others like Rousseau and Lavoisier flung open the doors of science, a certain and perfect expression of the Jung's 'collective unconscious' at work in the Antichrist kingdoms of the descendants of the spirit of the Roman Empire. Slowly, like a slug leaving its trail the revolution of science has covered the whole earth, laying out the red carpet, waiting for that day when the evil world dictator shall stride onto the world stage to take up his international imperialistic, dictatorial throne. It is the 'actual' big brother who is coming and the religion of science stands behind his throne, the real and powerful Lord Chancellor, the main adviser and confidant and embodiment of tyranny.

10. The Science of Government & Economics

Developed to Modern Form Since French,
American and Communist Revolutions ...

... Each of the modern sciences, in a concurrent state of conception for some two hundred years before the ascendancy of science to its roost at the open of the nineteenth century, owe their various lives to philosophical science, originating from the think tanks of Spinoza and the Italian Renaissance, and most notably, Bacon, in regards to their opposition to Theo-Sociology. The English philosophers, Thomas Hobbs and John Locke had drawn the sciences through the birth canal that had been identified by Aristotle and applied them to western imperial governments of Britain and the United States. Adam Smith had turned economy into the science of economics.

Similarly, each science has had its midwives and nursemaids. During the Renaissance, it was Machiavelli who gave birth to Political Science which was not matured until the art of science of international politics and diplomacy were created and showed their mature works by unanimous consent, causing World War I directly and World War II as a chain reaction to its failures in causing the first war. Two generations were decimated by the fruits of that universal political science. Henry Kissinger advanced it to its modern state by his genius.

Given more than a thousand years to make good, the promise of the bogus religion of the apostate Church had proven empty and inadequate, nothing but a repressor for its own glory, making life intolerable for Joe Shmoe and his family. The assurance that the faithful would get their just reward had grown thin and the Church's true colors had shown for too long – she decked out in ermine and jewels, her subjects in rags. Rome, even its reformers, had devoured its own. Persecutions and wars had swallowed up tens of millions of people and there seemed to be no available appeal to justice, not even to God. Cromwell had cut off the head of the Church's head in England; the Puritans went on fantastic witch hunts to their own shame and ruled in the New World with a repressive ruthlessness that showed no inkling or care for the voices of political scientists like Montesquieu's "Laws", Paine's "Rights of Man" or Rousseau's "Social Contract", which were coming out of a fast developing political science that were scooting down the pipeline of an emerging modern world. These were the thinkers that influenced the Washingtons, Hamiltons, Jeffersons and Madisons, the shapers of the new world body politic.

For its part, the Muslim threat to set the world ablaze with the salvation of Allah had petered out all altogether, discarded in the second hand store for use only later in the emergence of reborn-power according to God's prophecy that would oppose the antichrist at the end, just as it is being revived and raised up in this very hour. (Israel, as a nation prophesied to be in the center of the Antichrist's plans for total domination of the globe, is now alone as prophesied, 'a stumbling block to the whole world'.) During the revitalization of the Neo-Roman Empire during the Enlightenment revolution, Mohamed had become sick and died, thrown among the other thread-bare ideas and corpses of promised rulers of the world, kicked into the ditch, along with all other political theologies foreign to science that had failed to deliver on the hope of life, liberty and the pursuit of worldly happiness. The only one surviving was the Roman hope and promise which had evolved somewhat from its representative/imperialistic form into a monarchical/democratic republic in its colonies in the New World. As an ancestor of Rome, the United States still claims to be the hope of the world. Europe and its New World children may have been on different continents and no longer anything but cousins, but both were ready for the sciences and the forging of a brave new world. At first a mere suggestion by the Renaissance, to which it had loudly committed by rebelling against the Roman Church, and then made good on its promise by crusading for The Enlightenment, that voice of science which would break the shackles of man and free him both King and Church has been accomplished in every way and everywhere in these hours.

II. Science Shapes Today's World ...

Science is in the midst of a despotic rule in these last days, and thus it is ...

... Ruling the mind and spirit of Man. The combined and all-pervading success of the sciences of the humanities, coupled with lightning speed advances of technology and communication since World War II are the children of the end-time parents of the industrial revolution and the resulting lordship of the machine's victory over natural things, and ultimately, its victory over Man himself. Man has created this Frankenstein of machine and science. We are now terrorized and enslaved. We have fallen in love with the monster, we are the bride of Frankenstein, just as Mary Shelley had predicted. The revolutions of technology and communication dictate the terms under which we live. It prompts the unsound messages of the humanities without so much as even the push of a button. We can and will conquer war, strife, poverty and competition. Drugs, of all things, are championed as the most cherished benefit of our science? Drugs can and will overcome the genetic mistakes that have come to light by our scientific genius, and now, finally, we know and understand that belief in God is the villain. Down with faith we shout. The lack-luster Church now answers: "Sorry, we did not mean it." It is in itself responsible for all our life problems, physical and psychological. Science now reigns in the heart of the world. And she will get it right.

Technological and advances in communication give one the impression, even the promise and reassurance that one can now solve all of his/her own problems and that we will all be able to get along in a great society through one great facebook/twitter social media in a world-wide iPad Shangri-La. Man can resolve all his ills by his efforts of communication and his sciences that will teach him to be fair and just to his neighbor and be able to carry on fine relationships. Even if probate courts cannot keep up with the divorces no matter how efficient the assembly line is conducted. Never mind that cold hearted technology and machinery should not rule man's heart. It always ends in oppression of the weak by the obsession of the strong. It is always the web to which the spider lures the fly. Only now it is world-wide, this conspiracy fills the earth and it is the spirit of Antichrist which pervades the whole earth as never before.

Science is in the midst of its despotic rule with fasces in hand, seated confidently on the throne of unconscious perception, a real faith greater than Buddha, Vishnu, Jehovah, Voodoo or any shaman. Science has an artificial heartbeat pulsating it gives life to every opinion, thought and hope of the seven billion people who walk and chew gum on our planet today. Only those who hear the voice of God can live without the pacemaker of the false and deadly deceptions of man's interpretive humanistic sciences, flights of imagination of utopias preached, and ideas that by technology and communication and knowledge we can conquer our fears and acquire all our needs in full harmony together.

When one sees behind the mask, one becomes painfully aware that this gospel of Man is not true, is untenable, feelings of hopelessness agitate silently in the soul and spirit like a heart worm does in a dog. It is hidden from view but it eats none the less killing the unsuspecting victim until it is appropriately dealt with by the right medicine.

Religion, lame and impotent as it has become, are easy targets for the worm. They are easily seen as apparitions reduced to foolishness – like watching ‘Ghost Hunters’, they are a clownish curiosity at best, something laughable, at worst they are disdained as a hoax, dismissed by standup comics for what they really are, a waste of time. The existentialist ideas of the ‘world unconscious’ rose up out of the Greek scientific soup. They are the original mechanical Phoenix rising up out of the ashes of our mind to gain victory over the true religion of God. Its final death will not come to the day of Christ’s coming. Until then science rides high, flying over every school, workplace, field, army, stream, corn field, hill and lake. It flies peering down upon churches and mosques looking with x-ray vision with a hunter’s eye; intolerant to any opposing word. It has taken the place of Church, usurped the law’s right thinking and made the philosopher bow, for they must agree that right is wrong and wrong is right, only science is given the say. Science soars above where once Philip II of Spain, with his church, his bishops and his priests once flew over the citadel of right and wrong and judged the faith of men in the days of the dreaded Holy Inquisition.

The day of science ruling the earth is here. Even silence cannot be tolerated for its nature is to expound, to push, to demand.

Science's terrible sharp swift sword looms over the bending neck of the unappreciative, as in the days of the guillotine during France's Revolution of intolerance, its reign of terror. It is still rising higher, even since the time of its first hatching in the nest of the Renaissance. It was then pushed from the nest in the days of the 'Enlightenment'. Today it is winging its way around the earth, overseeing the revolutions of this lightning swift and strange modern age of cold make believe science and sorcery. But we who question these things do not have to buy into it, if we will but only listen to God.

PART III

MAN'S CROOKED SCIENCES

12. Science of Man vs Science of Prophistory

Science of Man vs Science of Prophistory

Time for Prophetic Science to Answer Science of Man

...Man seeks to understand, explain, and control things in the world through the scientific method. The ultimate hope of mankind is that we can exploit scientific facts to create a world without fear and suffering, where people live together in harmony and are free to do as they please. This hope comes from a humanistic belief that people are essentially good and can figure out the right solutions if we just work together. The presumption is not only that we can love one another perfectly, but that we will and that all problems of earth and life can be solved by our harmonious care and love for one another. Never mind that the history of Mankind speaks with one voice against this as delusional, for war, destruction, selfish pride and prejudice is nothing but our continuing legacy, the universal works of Man.

God tells us in the Bible a different end to the story due to His and His Son's intervention. It began with our father and mother Adam and Eve when God prophesied that He would send His Son to save us. It was confirmed when His Son was born of Jewish parents and died as a propitiation for Man's sin that anyone who would receive Him and believe and do His will could become a living citizen of the new world He would provide for those receptive humans that came unrestricted over to His side.

This is salvation. An existence in God, one of victory assured, but a battle for all the marbles, one in which Mankind is unable to fulfill its own vision though it will try to the bitter end, a vision in which Jesus Christ steps in to save us from ourselves and put an end to sin whose wages, as the Bible says, is death. In the days just preceding the intervention of Christ there naturally would be a great increase of hope in the sciences and a trust in the overall ingenuity of Man. In His Word, however, God has assured man that we may confidently put our trust in him and not believe the false assumptions that go unquestioned by today's humanistic world. In a battery of articles on both the human and technical sciences we offer quick overviews of Man's terribly flawed ideas of truth to show that it is an erroneous faith that believes in man's wisdom and not that of the all wise God in heaven.

ARTICLES

- Science Gone Political

Each of the modern sciences, in a concurrent state of conception for some two hundred years before the ascendancy of science to its roost at the open of the nineteenth century, owe their various lives to philosophical science...

- The Rise and Evolution of the Human Science

The Rise and Evolution of the Human Sciences as Sign of the End.

- Evolution and Archeology

The Pseudo Sciences of Evolution and Archeology- It is now time for the Prophetic Science to be added to the list of the Human Sciences.

- Wicked Science of Pharmacology

Pharmacology is of a different sort of tragic end-times fallacy and perhaps the more wicked delusion of all the fallacious sciences, its erroneous hoax being harder to detect than evolution's.

- Science of History Perverted

Even the mother of all humanities – History – has been forced away from its only true position as a speculative search for truth, honestly scribed by historians like Thucydides.

- Modern Philosophy

Modern Philosophy is the Salesman of Tripe- As history is the mother of the sciences it may be said that philosophy is its father.

13. Science of History Perverted

Modern Historians

Do Not Believe

Truth is Available

... Even the mother of all humanity's – History – has been forced away from its only true position as a legitimate search for truth, when it was honestly written by historians like Thucydides who captured the true thought and spirit of his times through speculating on speeches like the one Pericles made to the Athenians at the crisis point of The Peloponnesian War. History had long been accepted as a search for truth, and those engaged in its struggles were expected to be dedicated to truth as much as they could unearth it. But starting with the Age of the so-called Enlightenment in the 16th Century in Europe the whole tone and tenor of history did a complete turn about.

Voltaire, Diderot and The Encyclopedists of the Enlightenment forged the first cuffs of a whorish mother of history. Shackles of which have been forged in titanium steel and have helped to place the Antichrist Empire's peoples in a musty dungeon of imposters of empirical fact that offer the art of Archeology masquerading as science the final word on history's important causes. Only W.F. Hegel has had the nerve to try and sneak into the dungeon where history is imprisoned to interview her there. But his efforts, ironically, only gave birth to another science, that science which has always been destined to impinge on every sector of human endeavor and existence since the first cockleshell was used in exchange for a basket of rice – the science birthed by the erratic genius Karl Marx, that art of prestidigitation called today by the scientific name – economics.

The inventions of the modern sciences are bundled together in fasces style of oppression of thought amounting to a fascism of belief. The sciences and humanities, including history impose in threatening manner each individual study its own promises and remedies, amounting to modern bevy of hope, holding out a cure in its own special branch for that thing which ails Man, promising to set him on a course of right, health, goodness and effectively proper living, within a well constructed society for the common good. But it is a lame and fruitless hope. Dissenters are who are opposed to this enlightened age of reason and therefore opposed to the truth of social common good. The fasces of the sciences makes for prickly throne upon which good governments must sit, for two and a half centuries it has been slowly replacing the old monarchical powers of the Roman tradition to create a new and rational imperialism under republic and democratic forms that have imposed upon the world's inhabitants everywhere the false impression that they should be the rulers of the chosen government of their subjects. They shall be masters of their lives by tyranny of the soul. India, the East, including Japan and now China, South America, Australia, and now Africa have all bowed and committed themselves to various forms of Democratic-Republics. But the true government must be led by a righteous one. It is Christ alone who will finally sit on the throne as the world's one and only wise, benevolent, righteous and honest judge and ruler. For it is only under him that man can get a fair shake, one not subject to corruption, bribery and favoritism that dismisses truth and real justice for all.

The United States claims to be this force for good around the world. That democracy is not tyranny of the masses, as the Greek philosophers and statesmen had realized it was, but that the people can be purely righteous and unbiased is the delusion of this democratic-republic. While this delusional trust in Man's political freedom is proven to be false just by the 400 years of race relations on this continent, it still remains the assertion of democratic-republics around the globe, of which USA has been its most successful proponent and power. What our track record proves is that Man, all men around the globe east and west, no matter the form of government – is incapable of ruling with justice and love. That we are not to be trusted with the critical and holy scepter of truth and justice. With Man at the head it can only be oppression, fascism of belief and thought, imposed by the tyranny of the masses that tells me what I must believe. It is already here. If I want to be employed I must not think for myself, but I must believe what the masses say I must believe. I must do the concocted thought, imposed by the people's power that rests upon the masses of converted and frightened people.

After all, it is what is good for the whole that I must believe and do. Alas, however, eventually it must always be placed into the hands of the politically powerful establishment, then into a single head, a single man vested with full power to decide and impose judgment; that single person who will remit and acquit those who are loyal to him (or her). It is always regardless of right or wrong, true or false, good or bad. In this country the leader may have a political party behind him, in other places support may be evoked in the form of a personality cult. If this be true then democratic-republics are not only subject to a reign of terror by a hysterical mass of self-serving and frightened people, it is also tailor-made for the likes of Julius Caesar, Philip II, Louis XIV, Benito Mussolini, Adolf Hitler, Ronald Reagan and a Nicolae Ceaușescu to transform a mob into mass murders of not only life but of thought, belief and faith. It's nothing more than the coming last Antichrist – whoever that is to be – shall do.

Sidebar:

The United States claims to be this force for good around the world. That democracy is not tyranny of the masses, as the Greek philosophers and statesmen had realized it was, but that the people can be purely righteous and unbiased is the delusion of this democratic-republic. While this delusional trust in Man's political freedom is proven to be false just by the 400 years of race relations on this continent, it still remains the assertion of democratic-republics around the globe, of which USA has been its most successful proponent and power. What our track record proves is that Man, all men around the globe east and west, no matter the form of government – is incapable of ruling with justice and love. That we are not to be trusted with the critical and holy scepter of truth and justice. With Man at the head it can only be oppression, fascism of belief and thought, imposed by the tyranny of the masses that tells me what I must believe. It is already here. If I want to be employed I must not think for myself, but I must believe what the masses say I must believe. I must do the concocted thought, imposed by the people's power that rests upon the masses of converted and frightened people. After all, it is what is good for the whole, that I must believe and do. Alas, however, eventually it must always be placed into the hands of the politically powerful establishment, then into a single head, a single man vested with full power to decide and impose judgment; that single person who will remit and acquit those who are loyal to him (or her). It is always regardless of right or wrong, true or false, good or bad. In this country the leader may have a political party behind him, in other places support may be evoked in the form of a personality cult. If this be true then democratic-republics are not only subject to a reign of terror by an hysterical mass of self-serving and frightened people; it is also tailor-made for the likes of Augustus Caesar, Philip II, Louis XIV, Benito Mussolini, Adolf Hitler, or even a Ronald Reagan or a Nicolae Ceaușescu. It is the Antichrist spirit that can transform a mob into mass murderers, not only lethal of life but of honest thought, belief and faith. It's nothing more than the coming of the last Antichrist – whoever that is to be.

14. Pseudo Sciences of Evolution and Archaeology

More than one way to see time and how Man came into Being!!

... It is now time for the Prophetic Science to be added to the list of the Human Sciences.

To the original sciences of the Humanities, History and Philosophy, the modern world has, since about 1800, added a triumvirate of subordinate studies: Political Science (Machiavelli), Sociology (Comte) and Psychology (Wundt). Evolution (Darwin) and Archaeology (Rawlinson) were added to this academic structure, a bit later, as subordinates, but since they have taken on a life of their own they can now be considered their own branch of science, even though they will always be carried on the hip of mother History.

Evolution and Archaeology have become the warlord sciences leading the charge trying to deny the existence of God. Still, the evolutionist and the archaeologist both admit that truth is unattainable through their sciences.

Archaeology by definition is always a highly speculative endeavor and therefore an atrophied and weakling science, if it can be called a science at all. The first principle of archaeology being: 'the absence of evidence does not prove that something did not happen or something does not exist.' The archaeologist is forced into selling the position that, like Sherlock Homes, they have great powers of deductive reasoning that they are able to turn watery evidence into the wine of fact by brilliant scientific deduction. They make sure that people get the message that they have earned this power because they have worked so very hard digging in the dirt under the hot sun in some desert or dry and rocky place. But they must always admit to the persistent inquirer that their premise and conclusion is conjecture and not knowledge.

The evolutionist is on no better ground, being forced to play the same flimflam highbrow game. They declare there is no person, no intelligence behind the creation of this world or the things in it. Their first claim is that we are hereby sheer happenstance. That's their story but they can't just stick to it. They must try to prove it rather than describe the workings of this machinery on purely impersonal and mechanical grounds. I become skeptical when they continue to feel they have to explain themselves. They explain the mechanics of how the earth and its things came. They are like one of those dunderheaded men tinkering with a lawnmower in his garage, taking it apart and seeing how it works, then proclaiming himself a genius that understands all about it. So this brilliant goon takes apart a lawnmower, says he has discovered how it works and therefore no intelligence was needed to make it. By learning its workings and purpose he believes that explains how it came to be. Of course, the evolutionist must back-peddle when explaining the musings and theories he engages in, puffing himself up like a bullfrog, insisting he is the discoverer of something. The evolutionists begin right away to personify, anthropomorphize, their doctrines, even though they say intelligence and personality and mind have nothing to do with creation of life. It is annoying and aggravating not only because it is untrue but it is an insult to my intelligence which they are telling me was put together by an explosion of some sort or from a primordial soup of inanimate air and rocks and.. and... stuff or ... something. ...

Out of a random and mindless chance selection of un-living things I came to be. With their next breath they go on to speak of these things as if that had attributes of intelligence and mind while insisting that there is no intelligence, but random luck, behind their incredibly intricate and complex nature. Then they start up again, speaking of inanimate evolution as if it had personified desires, hopes and passions, plans, strategies, as if it had a heart and mind. Then, immediately in the next breath, as if they have come to their senses, they insist that it came by an impersonal, inanimate force that cares nothing for life, but only is done by some uncaring force to do stuff. Then, in the next breath we are told about evolution as if it cared about the sunlight needs of bean sprouts, the eating habits of clams, the dangers of cancer for lizards and the composite troubles of egg whites. These anthropomorphic attributes concede to things of life only as they insist that all things have come out of dead and inanimate stuff. They are things they throw around carelessly without considering or acknowledging that they cannot honestly talk like that without agreeing that all things must begin with life. That means not only a living creator but an intelligent designer as well.

The French naturalist Georges Cuvier (1769-1832) however had shown before Darwin and the Evolutionists made their assertions that creatures on earth had been created and not evolved over time. His science was inspired, showing that old worlds had passed away in favor of new creations which gave full credence to the earth's beginnings as indicated in the Book of Genesis.

But like the morons they are, they mock this axiomatic truth. They have anointed themselves scientists and tell us that things fell into a big mixer that got dropped into a spinning roulette wheel though no one can say where the wheel came from or how it got there. Their story is as credible as throwing a penny fifty feet up in the air and having it stick a perfect landing on its edge, next to a nickel on its edge – fifty thousand times in a row. They say it is only a matter of time that 'til this would happen. They ask me to believe that it is only a matter of time before anything conceivable will happen. It is only a matter of time that the earth will become a pig, sprout wings, and become the president of the galaxy which will become a herd of winged dolphins swimming in a cotton candy universe. They say that is not what we mean, but we say, this is what must be inferred because this is what you have implied. This is why they are required to use sleight-of-hand tactics to personify inanimate things of chance, invoking the god of evolution (that they say cannot exist) to keep alive their clever ruse. Evolution is the most furtive of so-called sciences, usurping the throne of honest science, putting to shame sciences which can be duly corroborated: history, physics, astronomy, mathematics, biology, and such.

15. Modern Philosophy: Salesman of Tripe

Philosophy Father of The Empirical and Speculative Sciences ...

... As history is the mother of the sciences it may be said that philosophy is its father. Scotsman David Hume, who died in the year of the start of the American Revolution, is the master voice of the empirical science of philosophy, even more so than Francis Bacon, who is the father of the inductive scientific method, which went a long way for laying the groundwork for that group of human sciences we lump in with the humanities. Granted all of it was laid on the foundation of the Greeks, Aristotle and Plato being the potentates of educating us on man's gray matter. Even though, if truth be known, the Jewish/Hebrew scriptures, such as Ecclesiastes, Proverbs, The Psalms, Job, et al, are the real fountains of pure philosophy because they teach the wisdom touching the entire nature of tripartite man.

All the modern thinkers are nothing more than ringmasters and jugglers of previously established concepts, men and women who have rehashed some truth salting it with the confusion of little white lies, then cooked it with a geometry of words and spiced it with pieces of fatty humor and chunks of witty speculations to make a nice word sausage carefully wrapped in tight transparent casings of sophistry, so that it is impossible to see or determine the tripe that has actually gone through the grinder so they may get away with calling it digestible food. Kant is the greatest man ever to put religion in such a casing for easy eating, one never knows if it is good or bad for their health, but it looks good if you don't look to close and tastes good as long as you don't take a close whiff.

In the mid-1800's Utilitarian philosophy added its scientific approach to philosophy on highly speculative, but seemingly empirical grounds (if that makes any sense) making the art of flubbing around with trying to do good a true religion. Never mind that no human has ever been satisfied that there is a person among us who knows what is the greater good, and thus, how can we ever do it with philosophical or humanitarian certainty. Yet, Utilitarians insist that we can know the good, and therefore it is our moral duty to decide what the greater good is and act upon it. Even still, there is not a mortal who can see past a mountain, past or beyond the horizon, let alone into the dungeon of the human heart. Even the possessor of that heart cannot really know it unless God gives one sight. Is there one who can detect motives hidden in that heart – or literally see beyond the veil of their own backyard into the future?

Will James taught the philosophy of Pragmatism as a way to life, reducing goodness to what is practical. Some (maybe most) of the great altruistic acts of history which have been performed have been exceedingly impractical both for the object of the action and its performer. Take, for example, Christ's death on the cross, this was not practical by any stretch of the imagination for Christ. Practically speaking it was not convenient for his disciples that he should leave them at such a crucial time. It was only practical for the purposes of furthering God's supernatural altruistic plan which is literally, 'out of this world' and unknowable by any fixed knowledge of man. But it is apparent after God explains it that it literally was the only way to accomplish the salvation of a human being, but God only can know such things. God is the only one who knows the ultimate greater good, the only course to take for an individual to pass from this temporal life into the eternal universe of life that he has promised to the person who concedes to the truth.

Therefore, the language God chooses is not just important, it is critical. That is why the Bible is so vital to the truth. He chooses his words with particular care. This is why the world and the sciences of men have tried to usurp, confuse and argue against the sanctity of the Word. It does not want to acknowledge its hopeless ignorance by bowing to God. For instance, Twentieth Century science began with its philosophers and word technicians arguing about language. Pragmatism opposed to Utilitarianism reduced philosophy from the metaphysical to a distilled almost petty science, sitting stale and colorless at the bottom of the test tube of Man's argumentative mind. It debated every prefix, jot and apostrophe. Whimsically it changed with every smart guy. Bertrand Russell advanced the charge, thrusting and parrying with genius of pedantry, words were uttered and siphoned through arrogant IQs, fought over as if they were contestants competing on a TV game show, a host of 'wicked smart guys' vying for applause and reward for money.

Because of Enlightenment of Post Reformation Age of Europe

The sciences have ended up taking on the role of God trying to teach monkeys to speak and deciphering the language of sea mammals and fish. All this has taken place because the Enlightenment of the post Reformation Age in Europe was enthroned in the world's collective unconscious. It gave license for us to think that the only truth, good and right thing is that "everyone has a right to their own belief". Though it is a manifest cop-out to avoid doing the right thing while sidestepping listening to the voice and words of our Creator and to stop arguing with him about every little thing.

In this last moment of this age of history preceding the return the vague term 'existentialism' so casually tossed about in order to keep things slightly confused is maybe the best expression of our time. It was coined at the beginning of World War II. Its most distinctive voice was the French novelist and essayist Jean Paul Sartre who portrayed man as free to think and do what he wants and that he should do this without regard for a thought about God or any other moral decree, or declaration of righteousness. The existentialist says the duty of man is self-determination, living with the freedom of choice without restraint from any effect or force exerted by man, and not shackled by any notion of God. Faith in God is an imponderable distraction, and therefore, bad it says. The degradation and evil exemplified by World War I and World War II gave impetus to the atheistic claims of the muddled confusion of existentialism, maybe even helped to spawn it, but it was man, and not God, whose free choice was responsible for producing the death and destruction of both world conflagrations of the last century. Humanity's perversity to ignore God is premeditated. Existentialism is the extreme, carrying godlessness to its limits. It is the perfect expression of this defect that has taken root in the heart of modern man. There could hardly be a more simple and perfect expression of the rejection of God, and thus, it points further to the fact that we are living at the end when the 'cup of man's iniquity' is being filled to the brim. Whether it was Nietzsche, Sartre, Camus, Steinbeck or Hemingway, we have been taught to fill the role of God in our personal lives. It is 'the' revolution, to flee from the truth as a disobedient child who insists on freely doing something because they can, regardless of the consequences. Especially, we in America, who believe it is our birth right to be free to do whatever we want and that no one has the right to tell us what to do. We have become our own God. It is a lonely life, one in which only the strong barely survive, and rarely, if ever, catch a glimpse of love, health, happiness or anything ultimately good – even by existentialist standards.

Another sign of the times is that all the Enlightenment sciences are gushing onto society like 'old faithful', spraying out of Man's outrageous brain pestering the truth like a little know-it-all child aggravating its parent. We pretend we are the smartest thing in the universe, and this comes forth from my three pound brain!

We have jettisoned the intelligence of God and believe we can master destiny. We salute the fasces of science. All the humanities are ruled by our abilities of inductive method and that scientific form of government called democracy. The highest percentage of possibility rules the day, all we need to do is observe and record; then we have knowledge and can decide the good thing by majority vote. Even though our parents always said don't follow the crowd. Truth has been handcuffed, marched off to the firing squad, blind-folded and shot, and we say good riddance. Anything in the name of science wins the day, like someone with a forged pilot's license it flies the jetliner which all mankind now rides. The godly are left on the ground behind. Science and the humanities have flipped the switch. The faith of the masses of the world is flying on autopilot, whizzing into the dark unknown, all us passengers whistling as if everything is going to be just fine.

Theology, the science of the study of God is no better off. It has always been a questionable thing, this study of God, even bogus. Man cannot learn about God as if he could be studied in a laboratory with beakers and Petri dishes. God must be known personally just as we could never know someone by simply studying their life in a biography. Bogus theology, once just a gossipy rumor mill about God, has a booth at the science fair as well. It vies for the approved science merit badge like a fifth grader. All the D.D.'s and T.H.'s and whatnots after a name, tell the story. John Calvin, more than anyone gets the credit (or discredit for this, depending on how one looks at it) for giving birth to the modern science of theology. It is fitting that he started out as a lawyer. Men like Karl Barth, Hans Kung, Pope John Paul II, Billy Graham and Jerry Falwell were men who brought theology to its current seat at the world's table by attempting to merge it with nearly all the paradigms of the sciences of humanism, and worst of all politics.

But take note: the truest and best science is the science of Prophistory. We are living in the moment of its full arrival, in the 21st Century. It is the Prophetic Science by the soundest method of science inductive reasoning, that which is observed in the laboratory of the world, in the Petri-dishes of politics, economics, natural phenomenon, the nation of Israel and the Jews, the restoration of the ancient Middle Eastern nations, the evolution of Antichrist, the rise of technology and travel, and the prophesied apostasy of the church of God.

The collective unconscious of Man is revealed in this laboratory of Prophistory through empirical signs. They provide coherent knowledge that can lead to an understanding of what is going on in the world and even in heavenly realms. It lends us the wisdom of how to conduct our lives by faith in God. All of the paradigms of prophecy are quantifying and validating God's purposes upon the world which he created. They are not man's limited sciences, but it is full and knowledgeable science. Through the science of prophecy, the failure of Man's science is being exhibited everyday with growing power. When placed side-by-side with the judgments and actions of the empirical measures of the Science of God's prophesied word, Man's hopes are exposed as impossible pipe dreams. Tornadoes pound, earthquakes shake the ground to make the way of our feet unstable, hurricanes and cyclones are whipped up regularly with force, all these have been prophesied by Jesus himself 2,000 years ago. Technology and travel make the world a village while man thinks it marvelous, not knowing that it is turning the world into one small place ripe for the dominance of all people by the ultimate Hitlerian person. The world is an incubator for turning us into neurotics. Disasters strike; food is short, plagues hit, the fear of world epidemics take up the resources and thoughts of our National Disease Control Center. Mental illness is common. Drugs, illegal and legal, are out of control like a virus invading our computers. Drugs are now the predominant religion of the world, bar none. Things are being turned upside down every day thing change radically. The computer term – ‘gone viral’ has ‘good’ connotations. Go figure!

The paradigms of prophecy are being fulfilled simultaneously and scientifically as we race toward the conclusion of God’s promised plan.

16. Science Turned Political

Machiavelli Father of End-Times ...

Hobbes and Henry K. ... of USA

The modern sciences, in a concurrent state of conception for some two hundred years before the ascendancy of science to its roost at the open of the nineteenth century, owe their various lives to philosophical science, originating from the think tanks of Spinoza and the Italian Renaissance, and most notably, Bacon, in regards to their opposition to Theo-Sociology. The English philosophers, Thomas Hobbes and John Locke had drawn the sciences through the birth canal that had been identified by Aristotle and applied them to western imperial governments of Britain and the United States. Adam Smith had turned economy into the science of economics.

Similarly, each science has had its midwives and nursemaids. During the Renaissance, it was Machiavelli who gave birth to Political Science which was not matured until the art of science of international politics and diplomacy were created and showed their mature works by unanimous consent, causing World War I directly and World War II as a chain reaction to its failures in causing the first war. Two generations were decimated by the fruits of that universal political science. Henry Kissinger advanced it to its modern state by his genius.

Given more than a thousand years to make good, the promise of the bogus religion of the apostate Church had proven empty and inadequate, nothing but a repressor for its own glory, making life intolerable for Joe Shmoe and his family. The assurance that the faithful would get their just reward had grown thin and the Church's true colors had shown for too long – she decked out in ermine and jewels, her subjects in rags. Rome, even its reformers, had devoured its own. Persecutions and wars had swallowed up tens of millions of people and there seemed to be no available appeal to justice, not even to God. Cromwell had cut off the head of the Church's head in England; the Puritans went on fantastic witch hunts to their own shame and ruled in the New World with a repressive ruthlessness that showed no inkling or care for the voices of political scientists like Montesquieu's "Laws", Paine's "Rights of Man" or Rousseau's "Social Contract", which were coming out of a fast developing political science that were scooting down the pipeline of an emerging modern world. These were the thinkers that influenced the Washingtons, Hamiltons, Jeffersons and Madisons, the shapers of the new world body politic.

For its part, the Muslim threat to set the world ablaze with the salvation of Allah had petered out all altogether, discarded in the second hand store for use only later in the emergence of reborn-power according to God's prophecy that would oppose the antichrist at the end, just as it is being revived and raised up in this very hour. (Israel, as a nation prophesied to be in the center of the Antichrist's plans for total domination of the globe, is now alone as prophesied, 'a stumbling block to the whole world'.) During the revitalization of the Neo-Roman Empire during the Enlightenment revolution, Mohamed had become sick and died, thrown among the other thread-bare ideas and corpses of promised rulers of the world, kicked into the ditch, along with all other political theologies foreign to science that had failed to deliver on the hope of life, liberty and the pursuit of worldly happiness. The only one surviving was the Roman hope and promise which had evolved somewhat from its representative/imperialistic form into a monarchical/democratic republic in its colonies in the New World.

As ancestor of Rome, the United States still claims to be the hope of the world. Europe and its New World children may have been on different continents and no longer anything but cousins, but both were ready for the sciences and the forging of a brave new world. Henry Kissinger, the Secretary of State during the infamous Nixon Administration, can be considered the father of power-politics of the US of A. At first this theory of politics was a mere suggestion by the Renaissance, to which it had loudly committed to by rebelling against the Roman Church, and then made good on its promise by crusading for The Enlightenment, that voice of science which would break the shackles of man and free him both King and Church which has been accomplished in every way and everywhere in these latter hours. The United States is the last empire before the Ten Kings of the world confederation that will serve as the power base for the Antichrist and his throne. No political development, therefore, is needed to usher in this end time epic of the Ten Kings and its Antichrist despot.

17. The Wicked Science of Pharmacology

The Ancient Scourge of Mystery Babylon and Criminals ... DRUGS

... Pharmacology is of a different sort of tragic end-times fallacy- perhaps the most wicked delusion of all the fallacious sciences, its erroneous hoax being harder to detect than evolution's fantastic scenarios. It is more than a school; it is an ideology of godlike proportions all its own, rising way beyond and above the sacraments of the ancient religions of magic mushrooms and opiate wine, beyond the social blight told of in the Confessions of an Opium Eater. Today it is not only a sacrament but it is the doctors of the Hippocratic Oath's cure-all. It not only competes for supremacy in every classroom of the empirical science of medicine, and of course, Psychology, even creeping into Sociology's wide-ranging spheres of influence; it has won and been crowned the undefeated champion of the world.

The entire world is fast coming under the sway and tutelage of the high priest of sanity, health, peace and fun, which is called Pharmacology, lord and savior and future hope of mankind everywhere. There is no place where its influence is not felt, no practice, ministry or business which does not sleep and wake to its Orphic strings and melodies of hope. The whole world is under the spell of Peter Pan and Alice in Wonderland. Sold outside and inside the stores that sit on the corner are the drugs-inside the approved prescriptions, outside the illicit. Either way, each time the Tarot card is dealt in pill form; first Jester, next Hangman, then Death. Sold not just as a cure for every ill, it also traffics in hope. It is the fastest growing religion anywhere and everywhere, on every continent, in third world countries or sophisticated cities like Amsterdam and Paris. No matter the cultural, political or religious history – even penetrating into the conservative hard line Muslim world, Pharmacia is here to stay. It is the new mob boss of the heart and soul. It sells protection, runs numbers and controls prostitution. It is a radical dude and the caring physician. But above all it is a profitable science with credentials and testimonies of salvation to verify its raw power to change the world. It is fat with black ledgers two hundred dollar cigars, that has now the protection of every government for its economic considerations alone. It is reported that 50 percent of the population in North Korea is addicted to Crystal Meth. It helps keep a poor and hungry population under control.

The bible long ago prophesied that the whole world would be deceived by the sorceries of pharmacia (drugs) – and so it has. Drugs have representatives in every government the way the mob and the Costa-nostra used to influence New York politics. The slogan of a certain drug company in the 1950's has become the accepted reality, promoted by every institution: "Better living through chemistry." Pharmacies sit on city corners across the U.S. selling billions of dollars of legal drugs that end up for legal and illegal purposes. Pill Mills do land-office business. Police and authorities feel like they are swatting at mosquitoes when they try to take action against the swarming problem that has invaded every city and town. In Detroit there are an estimated 250,000 heroin addicts alone. Pharmacology is building an empire both inside and outside the law and there is nothing that can be done to arrest the problem let alone solve the destructive force that is sweeping like the grim reaper's scythe cutting its way through the country.

Pharmacia has become the Julius Caesar of the medical, physical and human sciences, ruling and taking over everywhere it goes. Perhaps only physics and astronomy can escape the drug dragnet, though they could somehow fall victim too. Wherever drugs can get its foot in the door it comes in, looks about, and conquers. As a subordinate scientific discipline to Psychiatry, Physiology, Sociology, Education and Medicine; Pharmacology has been allowed to commit the greatest sin that any subordinate can. By bullying, intimidating, manipulating and lying it has become the intimidator of sociology, law, law enforcement, you name it – all are paying obeisance to the religion of drugs as their greater master. The world is turned on its head by the vices of the human sciences lying in bed with the physical rather than the spiritual, under the quackery of Dr. Pharmacia.

PART IV

PROPHISTORY AND TRUE SCIENCE

18. Prophistory: The True Empirical Science

- All meaningful history is nothing but prophecy fulfilled.
- Prophecy yet to be fulfilled is history just waiting to happen.

The sciences (study or discipline) of Prophistory and Sociology are alike in some ways. They are sciences. They both have an end goal in mind, which is the creation of a perfect society. Unlike Sociology however, which is concocted out of the mind of man, Prophistory emanates solely from the mind and by the hand of God. Unlike the goals of Sociology, which is to make the perfect social environment for Man according to Man; Prophistory is the promise of God that the perfect solution to Man's dilemma of living together is coming forth from him and will be instituted only when His Son Jesus Christ returns to earth to establish that perfect and just society on earth among men. This society is rapidly coming and will shortly come into its own Utopian reality under the headship of the perfect one who has proven his love for us. Unlike that perfect thing which is quickly approaching, Sociology could never realize a Utopia, too many necessary elements are out of man's province and control, as all attempts at Utopia have ended in frustration and defeat, often in shame and disaster. Prophistory is the study and verification of the coming true Utopia of God and all elements which oppose it shall be put away under his command on earth. Prophistory is the logical and scientific study of the veracity of Bible Prophecy as it heads toward this Utopia which the bible discloses through its prophecies from the beginning in Genesis to the end in the Book of Revelation.

Simply stated, Prophistory is history divided into two simple divisions: things that have already happened and history that is merely waiting to happen.

1. On the one hand, all meaningful history (by meaningful we mean history that is worth isolating and keeping for utilitarian knowledge so it may be analyzed for importance and truth) is prophecy which has been fulfilled and therefore points to the fact that unfilled prophecy will be fulfilled in its proper time and circumstance.

Such fulfilled prophecy is historical evidence that God lives and is the designer of all things including both mankind's destiny as a whole as well as each individual's personal destiny. This meaningful history may range from mere scraps and antidotal history to personal antichrist careers. It includes histories of dynastic reigns and whole epics of empire; social movements that lead to a significant change in the minds and hearts of man's political thought or social devices; it could be a technological innovation or series of innovations like the Industrial Age; or the rise of any and all of a new or old science as in the Renaissance or Enlightenment; the development of a philosophy like humanism, a false religion or creed like Communism; shifts in moral outlook and behavior, discoveries, explorations, inventions, or the increase of knowledge in any and all realms of education affecting the meaning of words, knowledge, travel or understanding.

2. On the other hand, Bible Prophecy yet unfulfilled, or in the process of being fully fulfilled is also meaningful 'history', because it is nothing more or less than history which is merely waiting to happen.

Therefore Prophistory can be summed up in these two principal statements.

1. All meaningful history is nothing but prophecy fulfilled.
2. Prophecy yet to be fulfilled is history just waiting to happen.

Prophistory is the main science and principle of Theo-Sociology. All of mankind, the whole world and every culture that has ever been or ever will be are subject to Prophistory though man and its society fails to recognize it, let alone abide by it. Our persistent ignorance of this makes it nonetheless true. Because the blind man cannot see the sun, makes it no less true that the sun shines. The blind man must take another's word for it that it is the sun and its warming rays that warm him. And though he must take the word of another that it shines, he does not have to take anyone's word for it that he is feeling warmth for this he experiences on his own, only his senses are needed to verify its truth. If a person cares to, there is ample evidence by experience of the warmth of God upon the heart and soul for anyone to deduce on their own that God is and that he rewards them with knowledge and warmth even if they have not yet seen the light. It is a matter of sound reason to accept the self-evident truth. Prophistory allows us to not only experience with our senses and by knowledge the existence of God, but by it we can come to the light and see into the darkness. Prophecy fulfilled is empirical evidence that warms the soul and raises my dead spirit to new and inexperienced realms of light. Prophecy in the throes of being fulfilled heats up my soul with anticipation and fills my spirit with light in which I may walk and not stumble. Anyone interested in the realms of God will enjoy walking on the road of prophecy, listening and learning in the school of Prophistory.

Entrance into this school is belief. Quickly, as the son shines and warms one can come to know that the explanation for what is known is to us what the sun is to the blind man, for there is no other explanation possible other than the son is shining upon them.

The science of Prophistory is the only explanation, the only credible answer. God is and that he is a rewarder of those that seek and acknowledge him. To begin with, we are blind. But God is in control of the affairs and course of humankind. Prophistory is the empirical science of spiritual matters. By Prophistory we are given sight to see the unseeable and by it we understand better the warmth which we feel.

God sits above and outside of time and space. We sit in our designated spot mostly alone, sitting wondering in our station in the timeline of history. But God sees history from the outside looking in. Man sees only the limited time and space to which he is confined. Subject to time we are subject to the limitations of duration, therefore we are born, we live and we die. We are locked inside the limits of a finite place that has beginning and an end. God is without beginning or end because time and space are nothing more than his tools to turn us on a lathe that we might be made an eternal thing with him. By the power of Prophistory, because he sits outside of history looking in, God can release us from this confined space, take us outside those created tools of the dimensions of time and space, beyond the veil of this singular finite universe of his making. He is everlasting, not conformed to the limitations of beginning and end. Prophistory unfolds this boundless world for us and like a bird let go when can fly to different realms. His prophetic words are stories told by His prophets, like a playwright reading a script for the cast and then acted out before our eyes the audiences of life's reality play that shows us the way to eternal realms.

But this is not only theatre, just for amusement or wonderment, left for us to interpret for our puny and selfish motives. It is to tell us the unvarnished and perfect truth of everlasting things; where pain and suffering is removed and eternal relationships of love and peace are kindled with joy in constant and eternal vigor and motion. Duration no longer exacts death, but life is established as victor once and for all and forever. This is Prophistory's aim and its declaration. It is the simple, magnificent science of God and his bible. It logically establishes that he is and that he exists 'outside' of time and dimension of space in eternal realms unbounded. He looks with unbiased perspective on this moment in time, with the integrity and knowledge of the original empirical scientist. He sits on any point of the timeline of Man's history he wishes. We are informed by him before it happens through the empirical means of fulfilled prophecy.

Obviously, no one could foretell the avalanche of simultaneous prophecies that have been being fulfilled in the 20th Century and are being advanced and fulfilled with increasing velocity at this time in which I write these words, except someone looking from an eternal perch outside of time and space.

By our understanding of this spiritual science we are freed like slaves not emancipated, but fully and finally manumitted. Free, as citizens of eternal realms. Prophistory gives us foreknowledge because it tells us the story of man from the beginning to the end. On our left is history, things past, fulfilled according to God's promise; on our right is history also, history merely waiting to happen, poised and certain, though in the future, waiting to occur, maybe to erupt, maybe to quickly happen, or to quietly materialize, either way it fulfills its predestined purpose in its prescribed moment – and we watch and wait – and know. It is history, meaningful and just waiting to happen, but history nonetheless.

Prophistory proves that all history with any substance and eternal meaning comes from the One who is outside time and space. 90% of prophecy (or better) has already come to pass. These are the 'days of vengeance' when all the paradigms are converging, coming to a boiling point and being fully and completely fulfilled.

19. Theo-Sociology is Coming

Sociology has a myriad of social issues and controversies of modern social concern; of which sociology has been defining and shaping since the close of World War II. Though a mere generation removed from our own time. That is how fast sociology has been turned upside down. Nevertheless, God's True Society, announced and established in ancient Israel among the Jews more than three millennia ago, shall be established in the very near future under the rule of Christ.

---

... Theo-Sociology is a true science. We are introduced to it as the Jewish Law (or Pentateuch) which is the first five books of the Bible given to us through Moses and by the exploits of God while dealing with his chosen people named Israel. The one and only true Great Society is the one outlined and instituted by God in those opening five books of his Word. Its law was perfect, especially in its order and realism concerning every social matter pertaining to the community living of Man.

The United States has taken up the ancient claim of governments and empires to be the savior of the world. In by-gone eras this promise has been given through supposed benevolent dictators and emperors. This time, rising up in the last few hundred years, it is claimed that democratic-republics can deliver on this promise, though many political thinkers and philosophers around the globe have questioned, even resisted, this notion.

The U.S. Presidency of the 20th Century, in particular, can be defined by a succession of reform and revolutionary presidencies. Most of them held political mottos that defined their administration. Calvin Coolidge's motto was the "business of America is Business". FDR called his administration The New Deal, Truman had the Square Deal, Kennedy the New Frontier, and Lyndon Johnson of course, went so far as to call his administration The Great Society. Truth is, there is only one true expression of a perfect law and government that has ever been set up and instituted under a perfect leader, that is, God's establishment of the kingdom of Israel. It occurred but briefly on the stage of history when he was king over the twelve tribes in the early days of the period of the judges. It was recorded in the book of the Bible by that name.

The fair-minded observer can readily see that what God set up in early Israel is the idea of an ideal and perfect society, even though mankind never allowed it to be achieved because of its rebellion against God, his perfect community and its lawful and proper operation. It truly is the perfect political and social ideology, even if it was never realized or conceded to by God's people. Nonetheless, it is the perfect law and 'the' great society. Shortly, this Theo-Society and its wise and loving sociology will once again be introduced to the world and God's Son will be its benevolent all-knowing head.

This is the purpose of studying what we term the science of 'Prophistory'

This is where you can add appendices or other back matter.